Vast Foreign Aid Program Nears Approval

UNION SCORNS STEEL OFFER

Conferees OK $5,809,990,000 For Recovery

$1,314,000,000 Arms Program Bill Sent To President Truman

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—A vast $7,124,000,000 program of economic aid and military support for the world's democracies surged closer today to presidential signature.

The drive to foster recovery—behind a shield of American arms—shaped up into outlays totaling one-sixth of this year's $42,000,000,000 peacetime record budget. These were the congressional developments:

1. A House-Senate conference committee approved a $5,809,990,000 appropriation for economic recovery in Europe and elsewhere. Final, favorable votes are expected soon in both houses.

2. Congress swiftly adopted and sent to President Truman a $1,314,000,000 military aid program to arm the North Atlantic powers and six other nations against Communism.

Spurred by Russia's atomic gains, the House voted the arms aid by 223 to 109. The Senate's vote was by voice.

Brannan Backs "Point Four"

3. Mr. Truman's "Point Four" made only sluggish headway. Secretary of Agriculture Brannan told a House committee that the development of backward world areas is a global "good neighbor policy. It will pay off in building future United States markets, he testified.

Final action this year remained doubtful, but Senate Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill.) said it still may be taken up this fall.

The foreign economic bill provides $3,778,380,000 to carry the Marshall Plan through this fiscal year, ending June 30, 1950.

It also gives the Economic Cooperation Administration $1,074,000,000 for last April, May and June. In those months Congress authorized European recovery outlays by ECA but did not vote the funds. Three stopgap authorizations have been made since.

If, as expected, the bill clears both Houses and is signed by Mr. Truman in its present form within the next few days, it also will provide:

$45,000,000 for Greece and Turkey.

$912,500,000 for Army occupation costs in Germany, Austria, Japan, and the Ryukyu Islands.

$110,000 for the congressional "watchdog" committee which keeps tabs on foreign spending.

Lending Authority And Cash

ECA's share includes $150,000,000 of lending authority, as distinct from cash. It will permit the launching of long-range Western European industrial projects which cannot be completed when the Marshall Plan ends in mid-1952.

The bill includes a compromise provision to save some additional German plants from being dismantled and removed to France and England as war reparations.

The Senate bill would have directed ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman to review the dismantling program. This was toned down. The

Pickets Smash Attempt To Unload Pineapple

THE DALLES, Ore., Sept. 28 (AP)—CIO longshore pickets smashed an attempt to unload Hawaii pineapple here today in a mass attack that seriously injured two truck drivers.

Nearly a dozen others were battered around when some 200 pickets rushed the dock, smashing truck windows, knocking down the drivers and dumping canned pineapple into the Columbia River.

Taken to a hospital here were Raymond Curto, San Jose, Calif., in charge of the trucks seeking to move the pineapple to a San Jose cannery, and Clarence Rosales, also of San Jose.

A physician said Rosales' back was broken. He said Curto suffered head and chest injuries.

Woman, Son Found Guilty Of First Degree Murder In Lonely Hearts Slaying

Mercy Recommended For 16-Year-Old Boy

DOVER, Del., Sept. 28 (AP) — Mrs. Inez Brennan, 46, and her 16-year-old son, Robert, tonight were found guilty of first degree murder in the lonely hearts slaying of Wade Woolridge, 67-year-old Stone Mountain, Va., carpenter.

The jury of ten men and two women recommended mercy for Robert, whom the state claimed shot the elderly Virginian at the insistance of his mother. No recommendation was made for Mrs. Brennan.

Deliberate Over Five Hours

In Delaware, a first degree murder verdict with no recommendation means death by hanging. The court, however, is not bound by any recommendation by a jury.

Under the Delaware law, Mrs. Brennan, who was charged with being an accomplice, cannot receive any greater degree of penalty than given her son.

The jury started deliberating at 3:40 p.m., and brought in its decision nearly five and one-half hours later.

The jury was polled on Robert's verdict, which was pronounced first. The jury, however, was not polled on Mrs. Brennan's verdict.

Four Verdicts Possible

Benjamin R. Donolow, chief of the defense counsel, was given until October 14 to file a petition for a new trial. The court set November 3 as the hearing date on the petition.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Brennan and Robert automatically will receive a stay of judgment.

In his charge to the jury Chief Justice Charles L. Richards declared four verdicts were possible: First degree murder, second degree murder, manslaughter or acquittal.

Tokyo Rose Jury Still Deadlocked

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Jurors in the Tokyo Rose treason trial still were trying to break their deadlock tonight, more than 50 hours after receiving the case.

This afternoon they requested transcripts of testimony by five defense witnesses.

This time the jurors said they wanted to review testimony by two former prisoners of war—Australian Maj. Charles Cousens and U. S. Maj. Wallace Ince. The jury also asked for testimony of three persons who had monitored Radio Tokyo broadcasts in America—May E. Hagedorn, Everett, Wash., and Adam Welker and Gus Gallagherp, San Francisco.

Since 11:44 a. m. (2:14 p. m. EST) Monday the six men and six women have been trying to decide whether Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino, 33, (Tokyo Rose), committed treason in wartime broadcasts from Radio Tokyo.

The government said she tried to shake United States Army men's morale by broadcasts on her sweet music program, "The Zero Hour." She insisted that in participating on the prisoner of war broadcast, she was simply entertaining the troops.

SHOVED—Film Star Humphrey Bogart has been barred from New York's swank El Morocco night club as a result of a fracas involving the Hollywood tough guy. Experts Discuss Plans To Boost A-Bomb Output

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) — America's top atomic experts huddled secretly today to speed plans for boosting this country's A-bomb output. At the same time the United States renewed its demand for strict international controls.

These were the highlight developments mushrooming in the wake of last week's disclosure that Russia now knows how to make the world's most destructive weapon:

1. Members of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Senate-House Atomic Committee met behind closed doors to reassess "plans for the future with the view in mind of increasing and maintaining our present superiority" in the atomic field.

Sen. McMahon (D-Conn), chairman of the joint congressional group, told reporters afterward that the session was the first of series scheduled to devise ways to build up a stockpile of A-bombs here. He refused to go into details, but indicated the urgency of the conferences by announcing the two groups will meet again tomorrow.

2. Undersecretary of State James E. Webb once again affirmed this country's unbudging support of the United Nations plan for international control of atomic energy through a strict security inspection system. He told a news conference that this proposal—which Russia has refused to accept—"remains the only feasible, workable and effective one so far advanced."

3. A top general indicated that military planners already have gone to work on new ways to use the atom bomb—if the need arises. In a summation report, Gen. Jacob L. Devers, chief of the Army ground forces, recommended that defense strategists give "further study" to the possibility of using the bomb for direct troop support.

High Court Asked Not To Review "Gag" Rule

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28 (AP) — A Baltimore radio station asked the Supreme Court of the United States today to decline a review of the city's half-dead court rule restricting crime news.

The case went up to the Supreme Court on an appeal by the state after the Maryland Court of Appeals had ruled important sections of the regulation invalid.

Radio station WCBM, in its petition, said the state had taken its appeal on "frivolous" grounds since no statute of Maryland was involved—"only a local rule of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore.

One Is Reported Killed, Another Seriously Hurt

Non-Union Diggers Defy UMW, Return

[By The Associated Press]

New violence flared up in the nation's coal fields yesterday with one man reported killed and another seriously wounded as hundreds of non-union miners returned to the pits in defiance of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Black, Jasper, Ala., reported officers were seeking the body of a miner reported killed near a strip mine operated by the six Preskitt brothers.

One man, Hershell Davis, 51, was in a Jasper hospital suffering from shotgun wounds in the face, chest and stomach. His condition was described as serious.

The Preskitt brothers mine is located in an isolated rural area miles away from the nearest telephone. It was the scene of an hour-long gun battle yesterday when an outside group moved in on the hillside strip.

Trucks Are Fired On

Meantime, armed guards protected mine property and employes in Western Pennsylvania and other states. Police patrolled some highways.

(Violence was also reported in Western Maryland. Raymond Frenzel, a mine owner, said pickets ripped up floor boards of a county road bridge and tossed a rock through the windshield of a coal truck. James Moran, operator of a strip mine near Westernport, said a gun was fired, a truck damaged and rocks thrown in a dispute at his mine.)

In Centre County, Pennsylvania, bullets were fired at 13 trucks. There were no reports of casualties.

The firing at the Preskitt mine became general shortly after 1 p. m. when a group advanced on the mine.

Gene Peskitt, son of one of the miners, said he was acting as a lookout at the mine located 20 miles west of Birmingham when he spotted a group coming through the woods. He fired his rifle as a warning. Answering shots came from the woods.

Meanwhile, the 10-day walkout of 480,000 soft and hard coal miners began digging deeply into reserves.

At Harlan, Ky., in the heart of one of the biggest coal producing regions of the world, dealers said they have little coal to sell and prospects are slim for any more until the work stoppage ends.

Harlan Situation Severe

The situation in Harlan apparently is more severe than in other places, but there was little doubt that coal stocks were dwindling, and dwindling rapidly.

The bullet-firing episode happened late yesterday in Centre County, Pennsylvania. It wasn't reported

Armed Forces Plan Caribbean Maneuvers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (INS)—The armed services announced today that United States sea defenses against the atom bomb will be tested in Caribbean war games involving 80,000 troops and 162 ships this winter.

The maneuvers, largest joint operation of the kind ever conducted with the full participation of all three services, will start in January and end in mid-March.

The climax will come about March 1 when the Navy with the bulk of the troops moves to "recapture" 24-mile-long Vieques Island, nine miles fom San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Collie Gets New Lease On Life

"Laddie," a collie, joyously greets his young mistresses, Dolly (left), 6, and Phyllis Marie Meyers, 9, at the Sierra Madre, Calif., pound after he was put on probation as a result of an official city trial. The local police chief cited Laddie as "vicious, dangerous and apt to bite and injure persons," and recommended his destruction. But the city council conducted a trial and ordered Laddie placed on probation, provided he's fenced in.

Ford Settlement Hopes Run High

DETROIT Sept. 29 (Thursday) (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers' contract with the Ford Motor Company, expired at 12:01 a. m. (EST) today but weary negotiators still worked to frame a new one. The company said there was agreement on "general principles."

The company said in a brief statement that the delay was "due to trying to agree to language of the contract."

"Ford is making every effort to conclude the negotiations," the statement added.

The word came after the UAW reported that a walkout "still is a possibility."

A number of important issues "still have not been resolved," they said.

The report was made in telegrams to Ford local unions across the nation as negotiators fought doggedly to settle the pension dispute involving 115,000 workers. The conferees had been in almost continuous session for more than 31 hours.

A note of pessimism leaked from the bargaining room when a company spokesman told reporters:

"Whatever else you say, don't say it's settled."

Not Much Choice

MOSCOW, Sept. 28 (AP) — The Literary Gazette said today that history soon is going to offer Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia a choice — "either rat poison like Hitler or a soaped rope like Mussolini."

House Okays Civil Service Pay Increase

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—The Senate voted 36 to 16 tonight to scale down the salary increases asked by President Truman for members of his Cabinet and other top government officials.

Revising a House-passed bill, the Senate adopted an amendment which would boost the pay of cabinet officers from the present $15,000 to $22,500. The House bill provided for raising Cabinet pay to $25,000.

This action came shortly after the House approved its third big federal pay raise in 24 hours—a boost averaging $113 a year for 885,000 United States civil service workers.

The measure, which now goes to the Senate, will cost an estimated $95,062,000 a year.

There was no clamor for economy as the House shouted the bill to passage. Advocates argued that the raise is long overdue.

Yesterday, the House passed bills boosting military pay by $300,000,000 a year and postal workers' pay by $180,000,000 a year.

Besides giving all civil service employes a raise through initial adjustment of grades, the latest measure provides for longevity increases for length of service. Eventually this will add $12,000,000 to the annual cost.

The bill lumps the existing 31 civil service classification grades into 18 new Grades, with a top ceiling of $15,000 a year in some of the higher grades.

Meanwhile, senators engulfed in their own flood of multi-million-dollar pay raise bills wrangled hotly over the question of boosting the salaries of President Truman's cabinet members to $25,000 a year.

Curiously enough, the fight over the bill to raise pay of Cabinet members and top federal executives involve only an estimated $1,200,000 annually.

Sentenced To Prison For Attempted Rape

TOWSON, Md., Sept. 28 (AP)—Jesse Robert Cresswell, 38, married and the father of two young children, was sentenced today to 21 years in prison for attempted rape.

His accuser, a 22-year-old employe of the Army's Edgewood Arsenal northeast of Baltimore, said she fell into Cresswell's clutches only because she was trying to get away from the improper advances of another man.

Churchill Fires Blast At Cripps

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Winston Churchill today called devaluation of the pound a lamentable and serious disaster for Britain and asked Parliament to tie a can to the Labor government.

The former Prime Minister who leads the Conservative Party ripped into Sir Stafford Cripps as a blundering chancellor of the exchequer who lacked forsight and turned "completely round like a squirrel in his cage."

Then he offered a motion of no confidence in the Labor government. If the motion should be carried in the vote tomorrow, at the end of an emergency three-day session, Prime Minister Attlee would have to resign and take his case to the voters in a general election. However, Labor has 393 of the 640 seats in the House of Commons.

The predominantly Conservative House of Lords tonight rejected, 93 to 24, a government motion approving devaluation. It then adopted, without a record vote, an opposition motion criticizing the government. The Lords' vote, caries little weight. The real test comes in Commons tomorrow.

Trappist Monk Will Appear In Public

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28 (AP) — A Trappist monk will appear in public to give a series of sermons here for the first time in the 100-year-history of the order in America, Rev. Louis Mendelis announced today.

Father Mendelis, pastor of St. Alphonsus Catholic Church, said Abbot M. Robert, of the Trappist monastery at Conyers, Ga., has accepted an invitation to preach at St. Alphonsus Sunday.

U. S. Mediators To Join 45 Key Contract Talks

Negotiations Bogging Down With Walkout Set Friday Midnight

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28 (AP)—Big Steel offered a 10-cent peace package to its workers today but got only union scorn in return.

Negotiations bogged down with the nation facing a steel strike Friday midnight. Federal mediators again rushed into the picture and one small steel company broke off negotiations entirely.

A day of rapid fire action brought these developments:

1. Industry leader United States Steel Corporation proposed to settle the pension-insurance war by paying up to 10 cents an hour per man as its share of social security programs. Employes were asked to contribute about $2 to 3$ a month for insurance and unspecified amounts for pensions, and to agree to a year's contract extension to April 30, 1951.

2. CIO United Steelworkers made no formal answer but President Philip Murray issued a statement insisting the industry follow presidential board recommendations for company-financed pensions and insurance. He accused steel of deliberately trying to force a strike. This was taken to mean flat rejection of Big Steel's offer.

3. The steelworkers made a formal presentation of previously stated demands. The union asked the six steel producing subsidiaries of United States Steel to agree to a 10-cent hourly pension-insurance package with the companies bearing the entire expense. That request closely followed recommendations of presidential fact-finding board.

4. Cyrus Ching, director of the Federal Mediation Service, sent aides to 45 key steel negotiating sessions in an effort to hasten a settlement. He indicated it was just about his last maneuver but did not close the door on some action by President Truman.

5. The Crucible Steel Company broke off negotiations with the union, saying it could not afford to take part in a pension-insurance program regardless of whether employes chipped in.

At the end of the day's United States Steel-union negotiations, Murray told newsmen:

"The basic situation remains the same. We will meet again sometime tomorrow morning. We submitted our proposal and they have taken it with them. I have had no contact with any governmental agency."

Murray Assails U. S. Steel

Murray said in an earlier statement which apparently answered the United States Steel peace proposal that negotiations are deadlocked. He added:

"It must be plain to all that the (United States Steel) Corporation is deliberately seeking to force a steel strike on the union and on the American people."

Chicago-Area Furnaces Banked By U. S. Steel

CHICAGO, Sept. 28. (AP)—United States Steel tonight began banking furnaces of its Chicago-area subsidiaries.

A company spokesman said a cutback was ordered today "because this is a long expensive process and we can't wait until a strike to start."

Some 57,000 steelmen work in Chicago-area United States Steel plants.

Those immediately hit by banking of furnaces will number only in the hundreds, a company spokesman said. "This is by no means a lockout. We have no choice in the matter."

Two American Collegians Are Released By Russians

HAMBURG, Germany, Sept. 28. (AP)—Two American college boys, gaunt and pale from two months in Soviet zone jails, were released by the Russians today. The first thing they wanted was a good meal.

The two are Warren Oelsner, 20, Oyster Bay, N. Y., and Peter Sellers, 19, Radnor, Pa. They said they were arrested as spy suspects, handcuffed at times and held in "dungeons" below street level after bicycling into the Soviet zone July 31 without a Russian permit.

The United States military mission at Potsdam obtained their release after weeks of negotiation.

Sellers and Oelsner told newsmen they had started out to cycle from Western Germany to Berlin, the four-power city 100 miles east of the zonal frontier, and did not realize how seriously the Russians regarded unlicensed travel.

Oelsner did most of the talking. He said he put up physical protests about the food in both Schwerin and in Magdeburg, breaking up cell furniture, and the Russians slapped the two into what amounted to solitary confinement for 18 days.

"We got about 600 grams (a little more than a pound) of bread, fish and porridge every day," Oelsner said. "They fed us enough toward the end. I asked for food one time and pounded on the door. They put me in handcuffs. When I resisted, about five of them piled on me and one hit me in the face."

The Soviet guards never told them why they were held, Oelsner said, except to "give the impression they thought we were spies."

Truman Flies To Missouri To Kindle Campaign Fires

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28 (AP) — President Truman flew into Missouri tonight to light the fires of next year's Democratic campaign in his home state.

Associates said the President would spark the party's 1950 election campaign in an off-the-cuff speech at Kansas City tomorrow night at 10:30 p. m. (EST).

Mr. Truman landed at Lambert-St Louis airport at 10:46 p. m. (EST) in an Air Force Constellation, the so-called "Dew Drop" after the flight from Washington.

The "Dew Drop" was called into service in the absence from Washington of the "Independence," the regular White House plane. The "Independence" is on the West Coast undergoing a routine check-up.

Mr. Truman, a 33rd Degree Mason, and a former master of the Missouri Grand Lodge, will install new officers of the lodge at a secret session here tomorrow morning.

His speech at Kansas City will highlight a testimonial dinner honoring the new Democratic national chairman, William M. (Bill) Boyle, Jr., a former Kansas City police officer.

The President will leave here at 2 p. m. (EST) tomorrow on the one-hour flight to Kansas City.

Chicago Burglar Admits Thefts From '9 To 5' Totaled $200,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 28—(INS)—A burglar sought by Chicago police for two years was captured yesterday and admitted netting $200,000 in that period by plying his trade regularly "9 to 5."

Robert Ritchie, 24, told police:

"I worked steady — from 9 to 5 almost every day — breaking into people's homes."

Ritchie was captured on a downtown street when a pawnbroker he had used as a fence for his stolen goods recognized him.

He placed the number of his burglaries at 200 and on a two hour tour of one police district pointed out 26 homes he had burglarized.

A search of his hotel room revealed a pistol 15 skeleton keys, a flashlight and a screwdriver. He was carrying a pistol when arrested but made no attempt to use it.

Police said they will give Ritchie lie detector tests in connection with the murders of six Chicago women believed slain by burglars.

Ritchie estimated that since last January 1 he had stolen between $15,000 and $20,000 in cash, plus jewelry, from Chicago homes.

When arrested, however he was without a cent. He explained that he "picked up girls in cocktail lounges and spent all my dough on them."

He said that he posed as a door-to-door salesman almost every day. When he came to an unoccupied home, he said, he used one of the skeleton keys and burglarized the place.

The earliest coins struck in this country, of British denomination, were issued in the colony of Massachusetts about 1652.

China Evacuees Consider All Is Lost For Good

HONG KONG, Sept. 2 (INS)—American businessmen evacuated from Communist Shanghai indicated that they have written off their investments in the port city and any hopes of saving China from Communism.

An American Editor charged that the communists have set up a hostage system in Shanghai in an attempt to "handcuff the thoughts and actions" of European evacuees who might want to criticize the Chinese Reds.

The Americans were among 1,219 foreigners evacuated from Shanghai aboard the Liner General Gordon which docked at Hong Kong to drop off British evacuees before proceeding to Yokohama, Honolulu and San Francisco.

R. O. Scott, an American businessman from San Rafael., Cal., said it was doubtful that private enterprise could make any profit in Shanghai even if there were no Nationalist blockade of communist ports. He said:

"They seem to think that because a firm has been operating in Shanghai for decades, it should be content to pay 400 per cent increases to workers. They do not realize that profits of former years are now dissipated. Soon the communists will realize that China needs the trade of the west more than the west needs trade with them."

The communist radio announced that Peiping has been picked as the capital of the Communist people's Republic of China, and its name will be changed back to Peking. The broadcast said the communist political consultative conference at Peping had adopted a new national flag for China, a "temporary" national anthem and statutes of organization for the new republic.)

Randall Gould, former editor of Shanghai's Evening Post and Mercury who was one of those evacuated, said the communists in Shanghai are holding a hostage for every one of the Europeans who left in the General Gordon.

He said a friend of each European evacuee had been made responsible for the latter's actions and statements after leaving Shanghai.

He explained the communists required each departing European to provide a European "sponsor" to guarantee his financial responsibilities.

Gould said the Shanghai government is anarchistic rather than communist.

Hay Fever Medicines Are Latest Remedies For Cold

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP) — The medicines you take in the summer for hay fever are the newest remedies for winter colds.

This winter they will receive their third common-cold-season tryouts. They are the antihistamines, which are a numerous group of drugs good for hay fevers and itches and other allergies.

Three doctors have reported this year that these drugs, if taken early in a cold, may cure it quickly or shorten the misery. The cures range from eight to ninety per cent, a spread so wide that much more study is needed to learn exactly what the benefits will be.

Two years ago Dr. John S. Gordon, Charlotte, N. C., reported that use of antihistamine drugs on college students were "overwhelmingly good." That led him to do a careful study on 500 students last year. He reports the results as eight per cent of colds seemingly gone and 85 per cent more comfortable and shorter.

In January this year, and again in May, Capt. John M. Brewster, U. S. Navy, now at Corpus Christi, Tex., Naval Hospital, reported 90 per cent cures when the antihistamine drugs were given within the first hour after a common cold showed up. The percentage dropped rapidly with delays longer than an hour. After the first day the hay fever drugs had little effect on common colds. Brewster's work was on 572 cold patients.

Dr. Halstead G. Murray, Dennison Manufacturing Company, Framingham, Mass., reported that 75 per cent of 494 persons treated with antihistamine during early stages of colds reported they were cured or "had their symptoms alleviated."

Dr. Murray got the idea from a girls' school where Dr. George Gagliardi reported good anti-cold effects of these same drugs.

The antihistamine drugs named in these reports by Capt. Brewster were pyribenzamine, thenylene, neoantergan, hystidyl and benadryl. Dr. Gordon named also theophorin.

In a report of Capt. Brewster's U. S. Naval bulletin article yesterday it was erroneously stated that he had named coricidin as the antihistamine drug. Corcidin is a tablet form of a new antihistamine named chlor-trimeton. The tablets are put up specifically for common cold use.

There is one serious drawback, summarized by the De Courcy Clinic, Cincinnati, in these words: "Certain antihistamincs have an excessive sedative effect, too great for their general use for common colds."

Chairman Nourse Of CEA Was A Prophet

The great rock that was dropped into the lake of our national economy by the coal strike has already spread its ripples throughout the United States.

With a forty-day reserve supply on hand, there is no immediate danger of a national coal shortage, though some smaller plants have been caught short. But hundreds of rail workers in Cumberland and adjacent areas are faced with furloughs as the empty coal cars line up in the yards and coal operation sidings. Nationally, some 35,000 rail workers have already been laid off while others are experiencing drastic reductions in hours of work.

For the moment, President Truman seems disposed to let the coal operators and John L. Lewis stew in their own juice. His mediators are working desperately to head off a steel strike, whose effects will be promptly felt if Philip Murray calls out the United Steelworkers on Saturday midnight. Already steel mills have banked some furnaces while others are using up reserve coal piles.

The third major strike threat, that of the CIO United Auto Workers, seems less critical, now that Henry Ford has offered a pension plan. Should all the strike threats materialize, the half-million now voluntarily jobless in the coal industry would be multiplied by four within a few weeks. In fact, if the coal strike does not end pretty soon, the steel mills will have to shut down anyway, since the production of coal by "captive mines" on Lewis's three-day week has fallen far behind steel operations.

All of this bears out the warning of Chairman Nourse, of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, that the government's recent cheerful production and employment statistics depend upon tranquility on the labor front. Mr. Nourse is not one to find satisfaction in saying, "I told you so." In fact, nobody can find satisfaction in the current industrial-labor picture—except, of course, Joe Stalin.

The Inevitable In Russia Has Happened

The announcement by President Truman that an atomic explosion has occurred inside Russia probably came as a shock, but no great surprise, to the American people. Since the theoretical knowledge on which our earth-shaking discovery was based has been widely known, and since Russia has had the aid of captured Nazi physcists, it was inevitable that the Russians would sooner or later tap the secret of manufacture. In 1945 many scientists predicted that Russia would have the atomic bomb within five years.

The news from the White House increases the need for atomic energy control through the United Nations. Unfortunately, it may also sharpen Soviet opposition to effective international control. Perhaps this explains Mr. Vishinsky's smiling countenance at the UN meeting in New York. Yet there is no ground for hysterical fear in the United States. This country has a four-year lead in A-bomb production. Our stockpile must be bigger than any Russian supply. We have carried out several full-dress experiments, with increasingly powerful explosives. Doubtless we have a long lead in this deadliest form of competition.

This is not to deny that a new sense of apprehension must be running through our allies in Western Europe, who lie within range of Russian heavy bombers. The military realizes that the A-bomb alone cannot win a war. It has not made armies or navies obsolete. But Western Europe is entitled to feel less secure today than yesterday.

As for the United States, evidence that Russia has the atomic bomb should end that deplorable reliance on one weapon which has caused our Defense Department to exaggerate the value of the B-36 bomber and neglect other forces, especially the Navy.

As Two Contests Tighten In The World Of Baseball

In the closing days of a baseball season which is something to watch in both leagues — so closely matched are the leading contenders—it is an interesting circumstance that the champion teams of 1948 are both in the ruck. Boston, which won the pennant then in the National, is in fourth place, 21 games behind, and not at all sure to stay in the first division. Cleveland, 1948 pennant-winner in the American and then World Champions of the year, is also in fourth place, 11 games behind the front. Only at the other end of the National League is there some consistency. Cincinnati and Chicago competing with each other, just as before, to keep out of the cellar.

Those uncertainties are, of course, one of the perennial attractions of the National Game. Teams are actually nearer matched than the percentages show, the tail-enders frequently walloping the leaders in repeated contests. What makes the difference in a team's year by year standing may be just the acquisition of a new manager, or the gain or loss of a power-hitter, or the blooming or fading of a phenomenal pitcher. Perhaps the most important factor is the comparative age of the players. A young team gets better year by year. A veteran team, perhaps the champion of yesterday, goes over the hill.

Employers All

Every employe today is also an employer. As a taxpayer he is helping to support the largest payroll in history. At this moment there are 6,100,000 civilians on federal, state and local payrolls, and the cost to the taxpayers last year was the neat sum of $15,000,000,000. With new names being added to the payrolls daily, the cost will go to $16,000,000,000 this year. This is equal to the income of all the paid workers in Massachusetts, Indiana and Texas.

In 1929 approximately 3,000,000 persons were employed by governments. Since that year population has increased 21 per cent, while the number of those on state and local governmental payrolls has gone up 60 per cent.

In the same period the number of federal employes has increased 250 per cent. In 1929 six hundred thousand persons were needed to handle the business of federal government. Federal payrolls now include the names of 2,100,000 persons.

As an employer, every taxpayer should be interested in what this costs him. Those who earn an average salary kick in $33 a month toward Uncle Sam's big payroll, or approximately $400 a year. And the item will continue to increase, year by year, until Congress pays serious attention to appeals for economy.

Epidemic Ringworm Of The Scalp

RINGWORM OF THE SCALP is one of the most miserable and stubborn conditions that afflicts children. During the past few years the infection has spread throughout the country and in many cities has occurred in epidemic proportions. It is caused by a fungus that attacks the hair by invading the follicles.

The disorder is always suspected whenever the scalp exhibits roundish patches, covered with fine, branlike scales. The hair over these areas looks moth-eaten and some of the shafts are short, broken, or have fallen out entirely. The diagnosis is made by examining the debris under a microscope or looking at the scalp in a dark room under an ultraviolate light containing a Wood glass filter. In the circumstances, the infected hairs assume a greenish brilliance. This is the test that is done in schools and other institutions to detect early offenders.

The disturbance is most resistant to treatment with local remedies and daily shampoos. The majority of cases respond to X-ray treatment but this is a highly specialized procedure and should never be done except by an expert. The X-rays kill the mold but, at the same time, cause the hair to fall out. When radiation is done properly, however, baldness is only temporary. If this plan is not feasible, an ointment containing salicylanilide is rubbed into the entire scalp daily, and into the affected area twice a day. Hundreds of salves have been tried but this product has proved most satisfactory in the hands of many dermatologists. It usually is incorporated into the formula of Schwartz which includes, in addition to salicylanilide, carbowax 1500, and hyamine.

It is advisable also to have the thatch shaved or clipped as close as posible before starting the curative regimen. All loose and infected hairs are removed with a tweezer. This is a meticulous and tedious procedure which should be done as often as possible if favorable results are to follow. At periodic intervals the head is re-examined under the ultraviolet light to determine progress. Persistence is the keyword and treatment should be continued no less than two months and frecess depends upon the co-operation of the parent and child.

In the acute stage, the youngster should not attend school or be allowed to go to the movies or barbershop. He can play with friends out-of-doors provided a cap is worn and there is no personal contact such as wrestling, walking arm in arm, and the like. His comb, brush, and cap must not be used by other members of the family. Such precautions are necessary because the disturbance is spread by contact and, when we take into consideration how chummy children are, it is easy to understand the manner in which the infection is transmitted from one to another.

Much can be done if the parents are on the alert, especially when ringworm exists in the neighborhood. Periodic examinations of the head should be made to determine whether infection has occurred. Whenever the boy or girl has his hair cut, the scalp should be washed immediately on returning home from the barbershop. This is a good practice even though the chances of developing ringworm are insignificant in shops where instruments are sterilized after each haircut. Now and then the backs of theater seats are infected and, during epidemic periods, it is advisable for the smaller tots to wear skullcaps to offset the possibility of contamination. Theaters frequently utilize the ultraviolet lamp with the Wood filter to guard against this possibility and to insure the safety of their patrons.

Old-Age Pension Demands Are On The Increase; Would-be Judge Dave Bazelon Is Embarrassed By His Republican Campaign Contribution

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 — The battle over old-age pensions in the steel industry is being watched by several million people not only in other industries but especially in southern California and Florida where Dr. Townsend's old-age pension movement and the ham-and-eggers have been so strong.

Regardless of how the steel dispute comes out, more and more demands for old age pensions will follow.

One little-realized fact in the steel dispute is that, during the President's fact-finding board hearings, CIO Chief Phil Murray appealed to the steel industry to settle the old-age pension issue by supporting the Social Security bill now before Congress. He said:

"Look here, you fellows, there's a bill before Congress right now calling for increased old-age pensions for everyone. Will you join me in supporting it?"

Murray's remark was addressed to Enders Voorhees and John Stephens, executives of U. S. Steel; to C. M. White of Republic Steel; A. B. Homer of Bethlehem; Ben Morrell of Jones-Laughlin and several others. However, he got no response. None offered to support the Congressional bill for old-age pensions.

Murray's inference was that if Congress had handled the pension matter for everyone, his union would not need to threaten a strike. As it is, however, the unions with sufficient strike power, such as the coal miners, auto workers, steelworkers, et al, can get pensions. But unskilled labor, farm labor, white-collar workers and oldsters who never belonged to unions will get second-rate pensions—or none.

Trygve Lie's English

Friends of U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie explain privately why the jovial diplomat doesn't like to make public utterances in English. He is fearful of a faux pas. For example:

One day, in a conference with his U. N. staff, Lie was discussing the proposal to build a prayer room in the new U. N. headquarters. Some had suggested that it be called a Temple of Prayer.

"No," said Lie, "that sounds too formidable. Let's just call it a rest room.

New Judge From Chicago

Charming Dave Bazelon, assistant attorney general in charge of alien property, dropped in to see Paul Douglas, the hard-hitting Senator from Illinois, to get his help in being made a judge on the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

As Bazelon sat down he noticed on the Senator's desk a clipping from a Chicago newspaper telling how Bezelon has contributed $200 to the campaign of G. O. P. Senator Curley Brooks, whom Douglas defeated.

"Perhaps that's not a very good introduction," remarked the red-faced Bazelon, referring to the clipping.

"I don't keep political books," replied the good-natured Douglas.

Bazelon's explanation is that Ed McGinnis, who was running Senator Brooks' re-election campaign, had persuaded him to make the $200 contribution. But this glosses over the fact that Douglas and Truman were running against uphill odds, were never expected to win, while Senator Brooks had all the power and money of the Chicago Tribune crowd behind him. In brief, Brooks was considered a sure bet, and the delightful Bazelon, though appointed to a job by Truman, was betting against him.

Trans-Atlantic Air Threatened

Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who wasn't afraid to fine John L. Lewis, signed a little-noticed order last week which is diplomatic dynamite. He cast serious doubt on the State Department's right to enter into agreements with other governments without ratification by the Senate.

Ruling that the Canadian-American air agreement may be illegal, Judge Goldsborough required the executive departments to define where the President's power of executing agreements ends and the Senate's right to ratify treaties begins.

Forty-nine Senators have protested the Canadian agreement on air routes as a State Department invasion of the Senate's ratification powers. Meanwhile Canada has put the State Department on the spot by threatening to throw out every U. S. line from Gander Airport in Newfoundland tomorrow (Sept. 30). Gander is the most important base on the trans-Atlantic hop, and the constitutional issue raised by Judge Goldsborough is probably the most important since the Dred Scott decision.

Merry-Go-Round

The American embassy in Rome has informed Edda Ciano, Mussolini's daughter and widow of Italy's Fascist foreign minister, that she can soon expect 30,000,000 lire from the U. S. A. The money is part of the royalties earned in the United States through the sale of Ciano's diaries. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder's office made the decision—believe it or not—on the grounds it can't be proved Edda was a Fascist . . . Robert Haggerty of Detroit will be the new director of census, and as such will dole out 150,000 jobs to find out how many people live in the United States in 1950 . . . Secretary of the Air Force Symington had a personal reason for snubbing the Navy court that is investigating the B-36 smear. Under Navy rules, Cedric Worth, who wrote the smear sheet attacking Symington, would have the right to cross-examine the witness. Rather than face Worth's questions, Symington ducked the hearing. (Feared he might lose his temper!) . . . One reason Democratic moguls have been worried about a steel strike is because it would cut off the sheet steel now desperately needed for new grain-storage bins in the farm belt. Democrats feel they won the election partly because of the grain-storage issue—and if they don't come through for the farmers it'll be bad news . . . President Truman is so pleased with the Democratic conferences in the midwest and Far West that he is considering another in the deep South—now very hostile territory . . . Several Truman advisers are urging him to bring up the civil-rights bills just before Congress is supposed to adjourn with the idea that this would keep southern congressmen filibustering until Christmas—when they might get tired and give in.

The Literal Atomic Bomb Which Exploded In Russia

By MARK SULLIVAN

THERE WAS the literal atomic bomb which exploded somewhere in Russia at a time identified by President Truman as "within recent weeks." And there was the figurative bomb which the news was when Mr. Truman announced it last Friday. The effect of the literal bomb within Russia was whatever it was. The effect of the news bomb is measured by what was going on in Washington on the day the news came.

Washington that day and for a week preceding was especially occupied with international matters. The foreign and fiscal ministers of Britain, Ernest Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps, together with ministers of Canada, were in conference with Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder. The broad purpose was to facilitate international trade, not merely among these three countries but throughout that part of the world which is outside the Russian and Communist orbit. During the week some twenty nations in the non-Russian part of the world announced devaluations of their currencies. Simultaneously there were in Washington representatives of 48 nations for a meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund. On the same day that news came of the atomic bomb in Russia, the Senate, concluding a long debate, voted to grant the funds, some billion and a half dollars, which President Truman had asked for military assistance to the nations in the Atlantic Pact, composing a large part of the non-Communist world.

Reflect A Status

These events composed and reflected a status, generally accepted as permanent for the indefinite future. Two or three years ago we had been forced to conclude that the aspiration toward one world was impossible to achieve, that there would be two worlds. The conclusion was forced upon us by Russia. She had refused to assent to a proposal by us for one world control of the atomic bomb. When we propsed the Marshall Plan for economic recovery of Europe we included Russia and the other Communist countries of Eastern Europe. Russia flouted the proposal and by pressure caused the satellite Communist countries to decline to join.

We had been forced to conclude that Russia did not even want peace in the world. After twenty days of a futile conference in 1947, Secretary of State Marshall was obliged to say that on the part of Russia "There was no apparent will to reach a settlement". And in June, 1947, then Under Secretary of State Acheson said that "the whole course of recovery" had been blocked by "the Soviet Union's pursuit of policies diametrically opposed to the very principle of international accord and recovery".

Upon reluctant acceptance of that conclusion the United States adopted a policy and took on a responsibility. We would be the spearhead of world resistance to the Russian Communist attempt at world domination. To that end we would help nations outside the Russian Communist orbit achieve economic and military strength. Upon that purpose we and countries joining with us were busily intent on the day that news came of the atomic blast in Russia. Several steps had been taken during two years past, others were in process, future ones were being prepared for announcement. To build up a non-Communist world orbit economically and militarily strong, was our primary world activity, confidently expected to continue and expand.

Enigma Mapped In Mystery

That is history up to the forenoon of Friday, September 23, 1949. The future is what Winston Churchill said Russia always is, an enigma wrapped in a mystery. An enigma consists of questions. They thrust themselves into all that has been said since last Friday. Indeed questioning, speculation, is about the only way for the mass of comment to express itself.

The broadest one is, does that blast of a bomb in Russia change the course we have been following for two years? Do we now abandon the purpose of ourselves and nations cooperating with us to build up a strong non-Communist world orbit? To these we have made serious commitment.

To answer questions about our own course, we must first ask questions about the course of Russia, and get or surmise answers, if we can. Was that blast in Russia a step in policy? Presumably not, presumably Russia had been engaged in experiment and preparation, and reached a stage in which it had a bomb. After the event, does possession of the bomb now change Russia's attitude? Would she now be willing to go back to where we incorrectly supposed she was at the end of the war, a state of willingness to cooperate toward peace and one world?

U. S. Air Force Should Not Be Impeded By One Service

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—It seems incredible that, with the important place in modern life that air power has acquired, the heads of the U. S. Air Force—namely, the secretary for air and the chief of the air forces—should never before this last week end have been aboard an aircraft carrier of the United States Navy or any other Navy while in operation.

It is explainable that Secretary of Defense Johnson, who has been out of government service until recently, should not have firsthand knowledge of aircraft carriers but it would seem that three of the four men who compose the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff—General Bradley, General Collins and General Vandenberg—might before this have witnessed operational maneuvers from the deck of an aircraft carrier.

The demonstration occasions surprise particularly because education on aircraft-carrier operations is an integral part of American air power. Apparently this education has to be achieved through a spectacular show on a single week end when actually naval aviation should not at this late date have to justify itself to anyone.

Naval Air Forces Record

The United States naval air forces swept victoriously across the Pacific in the last war and not only sank more Japanese merchant ships and naval vessels than were sunk by any other air force planes but actually protected the land operation of American troops by providing air cover for weeks at a time, as at Okinawa.

Now the problem of delivering the a-bomb has produced a bitter controversy. Our land-based air force, which was formerly a part of the Army, wants a monopoly on carrying the a-bomb. The average American will view with dismay that kind of dispute, as he is interested not in what armed service gets proprietary rights but what can be done by all armed services together to strike effectively at the enemy.

While the so-called Key West and Newport agreements—which outlined specifically the missions and roles of each of the three armed services—did allocate to our land-based air force the primary responsibility for strategic bombing, there is nothing in those agreements which prohibits the Navy from developing aircraft carriers with decks sufficiently strong to carry planes that can deliver the a-bomb.

The Navy wants carriers that can handle planes able to penetrate 1,500 miles inland from carriers and would want that kind of flat top irrespective of whether it is permitted to supplement the air force's strategic bombing missions. Two members, however, of the Joint Chiefs of Staff—General Bradley and General Vandenberg—not only have voted against letting the Navy build a longer carrier with stronger decks than it now has but they also voted against letting the Navy modernize its existing carriers so as to be able to get greater efficiency with its planes.

Preconceived Opinions Unchanged

It is this background of 21to-1 votes against Naval aviation in the Joint Chiefs of Staff that has made naval officers feel they were being discriminated against by men who have repeatedly declined their invitations to go aboard a carrier and see how it operates. Only at the insistence of Secretary Johnson were such invitations finally accepted.

The demonstration probably will not change any preconceived opinions but it illustrates to the nation why the inter-service controversy is not a mere matter of knocking heads together or of spending week ends together. It is a matter of unfamiliarity by one service with the needs and requirements of the other. This argues for the right of each service to determine how to use its own weapons within a budget allocated to each by the President, the director of the budget, the secretary of defense and Congress. America's air power should not be impeded by the demand of any one service to exclusive rights to the development of the airplane.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

War Or Civilization

A generation that lives in the shadow of impending war is not at peace even though there is no daily toll of dead killed in war. Its concentration upon anxiety and fear, its uncertainty of the future, its distortion of effort from the arts and from gracious living to the piling up of weapons of defense or even aggression, deaden civilizing aspirations and level men down to a horde.

This trend has been evident since 1914. Twice it has erupted into two universal wars of unbelievable magnitude, both of which were accompanied by revolutions, the destruction of existing forms of political and social institutions, and by terrifying collapses of the economic system. For government by obligation and responsibility has been substituted a lust and thrust for personal power.

From none of this are we yet free or are we even approaching the terminus of such an era. In fact, our danger is that it may all boil up into a cataclysmic third universal war in which atomic fission, biological scourges and chemical and electronic weapons will leave man a shrivelled and physically broken and a mentally and spiritually devastated creature. Whereas some historians have, in the past, found in war a force for enlightment and progress, no one can conceive of the next war as anything but a holocaust that will reduce the remainders of the human race to utter darkness. Man will return to the beast. He will indeed be a product of a cannibalistic environment.

This, I think, we need to face soberly. For while our generation may, by diplomacy and appeasement and trickeries, avoid the end, we are passing on to our children and our grandchildren a heritage which is unfair if only because we avoid our responsibilities and push the burdens on to them. It is not only a cowardly avoidance of obligation but it is an immoral departure from responsibility.

And therein lies the crux of the problem: The assumption of responsibility for peace. For this too is true, that a peace based simply upon day-by-day improvisations will not and cannot dispel the atmosphere of anxiety and fear which like an eternal black night enshrouds a large part of the human race.

There have been similar eras in human history, but always one heard a voice, even a thin one, cautioning man that the way to peace is not in diplomacy but in morality, that man never rises higher or even as high as his moral assumptions. The Roman empire was not as much destroyed by the so-called barbarians as it was saved by the spreading moral doctrine of the missionaries out of Judea who brought to Europe the testaments of God. Paul conquered what the Caesars could not preserve. Confucius brought into a deadening world a doctrine of life, as did Gautama whom men call Buddha.

Such a voice is not yet heard in our generation. For we are still too close to the shock of destruction and death and we are still to intense about saving the broken pieces of our civilization. So, we wonder what we shall do about China, which in cosmic terms means some 400,000,000 human beings whose status affects an equal number who constitute the largest part of mankind.

In our own country, there are those who think that money will solve all prablems and that all we need to do is to subsidize the "right" person. As it would insolve all problems and that all Chiang Kai-Shek, why not subsidize Hu Shih or T. V. Soong, or somebody else, equally unfit. It is improvisation without a program and will not achieve a century of peace because it is not based upon moral considerations but only upon the necessities of the moment, which can only create other necessities of the moment.

In a word, our great need is to think out our problems; to think them out on a human basis: to think them out with the objective of giving man a century of peace in an atmosphere of moral living. The strongest weapon for such a peace is the human mind and spirit devoted to civilization rather than to cannibalism, to peace rather than to war.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

A cowboy movie star is going commercial.

Yes, sir, he, just signed a deal with a doll manufacturer to make dolls of himself and his wife that will sell for 12 to 25 dollars apiece.

That's not too expensive. Out here in Hollywood it costs you three times that much just to go to Ciro's and look at a doll.

In the old days they had dolls you squeezed that said "mommie." This doll you can lasso, tie up, and in thirty seconds flat it'll break free, grab a guitar and cut loose with a ballad.

Because of the code of all westerns, these dolls of the cowboy movie star and his wife can never get romantic. In fact, the store owners have orders not to sell a boy and a girl doll to the same family.

I understand they wanted to manufacture horses for the dolls, too, but they decided against it. If they sold them they'd have to sell a sunset for them to ride off into.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (INS)—My friend Frank Farrell, who believes sincerely that the taxpayers are being robbed by the Air Force's insistence on the B-36 program, has issued a challenge which the Air Force might well consider the next time it goes in for a major test.

Frank suggests that a B-36 take off from Fort Worth, say, fly non-stop to Berlin, camera-bomb it at 40,0000 feet, and return to base—about a 10,000 mile trip. He suggests also that Air Force and Navy jet fighters act as interceptors.

Good idea, especially in these times. Better idea, for instance, than the Air Force's re-fueling flight around the world. It would seem fair, however, that the B-36 not tip off the interceptors it is on its way. Would an enemy?

Does one detect the fine Italian hand of politics in the tug-and-pull over the removal inland of the vast Boeing plants around Seattle? As a defense measure, the plants were said to be due to be transferred to Wichita.

This is not to say that the enemy, if any, would hesitate to waste a bomb on Wichita, which is a fine city. The thought behind the scheduled change has to do with distances involved, if any country plans to attack us.

Anyway, we learn from an especially well-informed source in the State of Washington that Boeing may stay on the Coast if a certain Republican senator from that state, known for his fiery individualism, promises to play ball. What's going on, senator?

It is no particular fun to pick on the British, who are having a rough time and are a fine people. But, occasionally, it is hard to digest some of the British Information Services' handouts. To wit:

"The decision to devalue the pound from $4.03 to $2.80 was taken by Britain's Government before Mr. Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps left Britain on August 31 for the Washington Conference. Until very recently, the government had been convinced that Britain might still hope to achieve dollar balance, etc. etc."

How recently?

Sir stafford said nine times of late that the pound wouldn't be devalued. But it was common talk around the cocktail circuit in Bermuda last July that the pound would be devalued around September 15. In fact, some debtors were tipped off not to pay their bills until then, so they could pay with deflated notes.

Mrs. Shirlye Kaplan, of Washington, D. C., writes to ask me where I get that nonsense about the difficulties visitors have securing tickets for hit Broadway shows.

Such propaganda, Shirlye says, is made up by the publicity agents of the shows, a bad breed to be sure.

Shirlye never misses a hit; never has trouble. She tries the brokers, especially one she has found behind a Broadway nylon cach. If they fail her, and she attests that they seldom do, she simply gets in line at the theater about 9 ayem and buys standing room. Saw 14 shows during her last 12 day trip to New York; all hits. Sat through most of them, too.

Wish she'd call me the next time she's in town. I'm still trying to get seats for "Life With Father." I did get into see "South Pacific," however, after a four month wait. Turned out to be an off night. The leads, I think, were sung by Sonny Tufts and Patsy Kelly, though I can't be sure. Kinda far back.

Great show, of course. Two other fine ones we've recently gotten tickets to are "Detective Story" and "Miss Liberty." The former is the best straight meller since "Front Page," and doesn't hit you in the kisser with a message. The latter convinces me that theater critics, by and large, are nuts. The saps rapped it.

As long as we've worked ourselves into a benevolent mood, here are some wonderful shows we've seen on television lately: Fred Waring's, Milton Berle's of course, The Goldbergs, Victor Borge (is that right?) on Ed Sullivan's show, the Forest Hills finals and all baseball.

Looking at the Notre Dame-Indiana game in South Bend, while sitting in a New York living room, was to me the greatest communications thrill since, "What Hath God Wrought?"

A Big Boost For Smitty!

Stepped into Smith's Department Store the other noon and saw the strangest thing. "Sis" Davis was coming up the stairs from the basement with a bundle of wash.

"Is Smitty taking in washing these days?" I asked. "Not quite," she says. "He's just put in a new automatic washing machine, so the girls who work here can get their laundry done while they're eating lunch. Means more time to relax at night and on weekends."

I thought what a swell boss Smitty must be. Human relations between the boss and employees have certainly taken a big step forward during my lifetime.

From where I sit, people seem to be doing a better job of seeing our neighbor's viewpoint these days. Though his ideas and tastes may not be ours, we can understand his preference for a certain breakfast cereal, a favorite movie star, or for a temperate glass of beer or ale. That's the way it should be in a free country.

CRUSOE, THE SAILOR

Annual PTA Classic To Be Presented

Daniel Defoe's classic, Robinson Crusoe, will be portrayed for the children of Allegany County in the Edwin Strawbridge dance-drama version of the world's most famous story of adventure to be presented October 3, 4, 5 under the auspices of the Allegany County Council of Parent-Teachers. Showings will be at Fort Hill High School at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m., October 3; Bruce High, Westernport, 9:15 a. m., October 4; Central High, Lonaconing, 1:15, October 4; and Beall High, Frostburg, 9:30 a. m. and 1 p. m., October 5.

For the most part the action takes place against the colorful backdrop of a tropical island all children have dreamed of visiting, but the play opens on board ship just as the storm strikes. The rhythm of wind and sea are seen and felt in the dance of Robinson and his fellow shipmates. Thunder roars and there are violent flashes of lightning as the sailors do the storm dance. The ship sinks and only Robinson is left.

The storm recedes and a rainbow is seen; Robinson lies where the sea cast him on the rocks of his desert island, and the play proper begins.

It moves quickly, carried forward with dialogue, music and dancing. The vivid coloring of the tropics will be seen in the sets. Butterflys, tropical birds and strange flowers will add to the drama. The dance steps have been tuned to the elements with sea and sky and the soft touch of rainbows forming the theme and setting the tempo.

STYLE TRENDS HAVE INVADED THE EVENING DRESS SECTION, USUALLY INDIFFERENT TO DAYTIME CHANGES

Your new Fall frock will hold it's place in fashion's spotlight for many seasons if you follow today's guides.

By PAT FULLERTON
News Staff Writer

Usually, style trends have little effect on the long evening dress. Last year's gown rarely suffers the stigma of not quite being what they're wearing this year.

However, the evening gown of 1949 will show its vintage year without any doubt. And, the year is 1920.

Handkerchief hemlines dipping up and down around the ankle are back again. There is probably no line quite as flattering to the not-quite-perfect ankle. So, if the short evening dress is not quite to your taste, try one of these in between ones.

Remember the halter neckline? It's back again, particularly in chiffon and velvet. It's a nice change from the strapless look which has almost been done to death.

For several years, straps were more or less taboo for after dark. One was either very bare or very covered around the shoulders.

Now, tiny, tiny camisole straps are much newer than dropped shoulders. Look in your mother's old clothes and see if she doesn't have a dress much like the new one you've fallen in love with.

Back when the perfect female figure was as straight and as bony as possible, the sheath was the height of fashion.

The craze has hit the evening dress. Even smarter, if you've got the figure for it, than the bouffant skirt, is the straight, tight evening dress. Usually, there is a slit to keep milady from tripping on the stairs.

Paris decrees the renaissance of the v-shaped back. Before strapless dresses became practical, backs were bared for evening. Many of the across-the-seas designs put emphasis on the cut in back this year.

Not that there's any real worry in this quarter. If the fluffy dress suits you, there are plenty. And that's one place no one can look critically to see if you are wearing last year's hem length.

But, on the other hand, it's nice to be able to find an original evening dress on occasion.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

YOU will not only be making the most of your clothes budget, but you will be better dressed, if you avoid passing fancies and choose only the dresses that belong to the true fashion trend. You can easily avoid the fads and determine what the accredited fashions are by studying the fashion news in the newspapers and magazines.

The dresses that keep their place in the fashion spotlight for several seasons are those that follow the long-term trend in silhouette. The importance of the silhouette is readily appreciated when you compare the rigid, rectangular silhouette of the war years with the sloping triangular frame of today's dresses. Once generally accepted, a silhouette usually continues for a reasonable period of time.

Today's Silhouette

Your cue today is to look for the dress with gentle shoulders, confined waist and soft skirt. But no matter what the current silhouette demands, you must select it in the variations that are most flattering to your own type of figure. A dress is not fashionable unless it is fashionable on you.

To help you choose the most becoming additions to your wardrobe this Fall, I've outlined some of the outstanding fashion points of the season with notes on the types of figures to which each is best adapted:

Your Silhouette

Sloping shoulders are for the slim-hipped and the square-shoulder figures. Dolman and kimona sleeves are for the medium and tall, slim figures. Three-quarter, fitted (bracelet) sleeves are for everybody but especially for the long, thin arm. Low "V" necklines are generally becoming except to the extremely tall thin figures and the long, thin face.

Waist emphasis (insets, gathers, tucks) are for the slim-waisted and slim-hipped. Large pockets are for the tall and medium, well-proportioned figures. Skirts with drapery, back flares, floating panels are for the perfectly proportioned figures only. Gored skirts are graceful for all types of figures if their width at the hem is in proportion to the figure — mushrooming out for the tall and slim; falling straight for the short and heavy.

Skirt lengths are about an inch shorter for daytime wear than last season. The most becoming length is in a line with the end of the curve of the calf.

Now for that first Fall frock, go out and pick yourself the most becoming one you have ever owned!

P. S. from J. R. P.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE?"—Horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure! This "P. S." gives you complete information on handling lines to your own best advantage. Write to John Robert Powers in care of this newspaper, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed, return envelope.

Tomorrow: The correct suit for YOU!

ENTRANCES AND EXITS . . . They especially interest Christian Pineau, French minister of public works, who hasn't had as much publicity as some of the other visiting foreigners . . . but works just as hard—studying those exits and entrances.

He hopes to learn how to improve transportation facilities in and out of Paris . . . by imitating our marvelous American solutions of the same problems.

AUSTINE

Mr. Pineau—who looks the average prosperous French businessman (medium height, medium weight, every black hair slicked down, everything very neat)—will especially scrutinize Chicago's In and Out pathways.

Chose the Windy City because of its inland location, more like Paris.

Pineau cracked a little joke off the record, of course, to a newsman:

"You know what is the difference between me and my other colleagues of the French cabinet? Ha! They all come here to get money." He raised his eyebrows: "And I am the biggest spender of that money. They come to get it and Pineau comes over and studies how to spend it. To improve the roads, railroads and, in general, public works."

Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King's offspring, Florence, has teamed up as partner in an enterprise called "The Not New Shop" out in Alexandria . . . She's taken over the receiving and pricing of articles going into the shop on consignment.

If it weren't for the Not New Shop, many models and impecunious debs might go unadorned . . . Because the establishment resells expensive gowns from top designers which would otherwise hang in the closets of fickle, wealthier women who rummage their closets, weed out gowns they can do without. The shop resells them . . . After all, one woman's mistake is another woman's meat.

Clothes that are out of style, or too badly worn, the shop won't accept . . . One-third of the sale price goes to the shop, two-thirds to the owner . . . This way a lady can take her profit and sink it into a new dress.

Florence King and her partner, Henri (short for Henrietta) Ehrsam, do a whopping business outfitting service people, Army, Navy, Air Force and diplomatic wives.

They never reveal the owners' names to the buyers . . . So the Lieutenant's wife, for all she knows, may be wearing the Paris original that looked like zx*?!! on the General's lady.

While sorrowing for poor senators cooped up on the Hill all summer, few people realized how tough it was on the poor little page boys. They got no vacation like other school kids. And last week the Capitol page school reopened on the top floor of the main building under the Capitol dome . . . And they still hadn't had a holiday.

One page won't be going to school, though. Fourteen-year-old Freddy Frear, son of Sen. Frear of Delaware, during the summer off-school days, dressed up in the page boy uniform of the white shirt, navy blue serge trousers and black four-in-hand tie. He became a sort of temporary page, ran errands for the senators, instead of going to camp or working in a filling station for the summer. Made his dad the only senator with a son as page boy.

Sen. John Foster Dulles' nephew —dark-haired, 14-year-old David Dulles—chased around the Capitol from July 15 till last week . . . helping out in his uncle's office. The senator's regular staff got a kick out of David's enthusiasm and earnest desire to see how things worked in the government . . . From his New York school, young Mr. Dulles reported back to them the other day. He is writing a thesis on "My Experiences in the Senate."

Rosa Ponselle, since she divorced the ex-mayor of Baltimore's son, has made Maryland home . . . But bachelor George Livingston Williams put on the charm recently and puts on a dinner Monday night at the Sulgrave club, hoping to lure her over to Washington to live.

Some years ago, raven-haired Rosa, I remember, came over and sang at one of Perle Mesta's parties. Guests were ordered positively NOT to smoke cigarettes—temperamental Rosa's throat simply couldn't stand smoke!

At that party a young lady cornered her to get some advice on how to succeed in a singing career. The blonde young university student has since done very well for herself, so's her old man . . . She starts her second concert tour next month from Atlanta . . . Pop became thirty-third President of the United States!

Has "Family" Party

The annual get-together of the Allegany High School faculty held Thursday night at Ali Ghan Country Club was in the form of a "family" party. Each guest was assigned to a "family" for the evening. They included the Vanderbilts, Astors, Hatfields and McCoys.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Kopp were guests. Flowers were used in the decorations of the tables where guests were grouped according to family standing. Covers were laid for 52. The Hatfields won the contest games and Miss Theresa Nicht won the "ice-breaking" identification riddle.

James Hosack served as toastmaster, allowed no talks and heckled the guests. Miss Dorothy Willison and Lua Syckes were in charge of the music. Miss Betsy Ross Rankin and Mrs. T. M. Andrews were co-chairmen of arrangements, assisted by Miss Natalie Jacobson, Miss Dora Richards and Paul Hilairo.

Chinese-Soviet Dispute Pushed To U.N. Assembly

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 28 (AP)—Nationalist China's case against the Soviet Union was pushed on to the full United Nations Assembly today over the protest of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Vishinsky accused the Nationalist government of "mud-slinging" tactics and said even the United States and its atomic bomb could not help the Kuomintang regime. The Russian said the United States had no monopoly on the A-bomb but did not amplify.

The 14-nation Steering Committee voted down his demand that it throw out the Chinese charges. It decided, 11 to 2 (Russia and Poland), to recommend a full dress debate on the Nationalist charges.

The General Assembly meets tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. (EST) to decide whether it wants to add the case to its crowded business sheet. It is expected to do so, with the Rusian-Chinese fight to come in the political committee.

The Nationalist government charged that the Soviet Union is threatening the independence and territorial integrity of China and the peace of the Far East.

Carlos P. Romulo, Assembly president and outspoken foe of Communism did not vote when the Steering Committee acted.

In the midst of his short spirited speech against the Nationalist government, Vishinsky renewed previous hints to the United Nations that the Soviet Union has the atomic bomb.

He sarcastically said the United States no longer has the monopoly on the atomic bomb. Various listeners and linguists could not agree whether Vishinsky said this was "fortunate" or "unfortunate." He spoke in Russian.

It was the first direct reference by the Soviet Foreign Minister to the atomic issue since President Truman last Friday announced there has been an atomic explosion in the Soviet Union.

Big 4 Ministers Again Tackle Austria Issue

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (INS) — The Big Four foreign ministers met tonight for another attempt to break the deadlock on the Austrian peace treaty.

The informal meeting, under heavy security guard, started at 10:35 p. m. EST in a 37th floor room at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin, French Foreign Minister Schuman and Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky tackled the problem again Monday night. They made little headway then and arranged a Wednesday night meeting.

until today when Sheriff Martin L. Kauffman told Gov. James H. Duff about it and asked for state police help.

"There's no question that pickets threw those stones and fired those rifles," Kauffman told a reporter.

Kauffman said two bullets were fired at the 13-truck convoy in an isolated region on Snow Shoe Mountain. One pierced a tire, blew it out. The other bullet missed.

Stones were hurled at the trucks. Windshields in seven of them were smashed. Headlights were knocked out.

Va. Acts In Emergency

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 28 (AP)—Gov. Tuck today reorganized the State Council of Defense and directed it to secure "every possible pound of coal" for the use of state and local governments and the people of Virginia.

In an executive order declaring the coal mine strike had created an emergency in Virginia, the Governor told the three-man council to increase the production of coal in every possible manner.

The prospective ECA appropriation now is about 10 per cent below the sum Hoffman originally asked. It stands at the reduced figure voted by the Senate.

4-Power Berlin Talks Collapse

BERLIN, Sept. 28 (AP) — The West's commanders broke off today the talks with Russia ordered last June by the four-power foreign ministers in an effort to restore divided Berlin to normal life.

The consultations were ordered when the four powers found themselves unable to agree on any long-range policies in Germany even after the ending of the Berlin blockade.

The breakdown came over Berlin's soviet run railway system.

The American, British and French commandants charged that Russia is failing to carry out the settlement that ended the 38-day strike of non-Communist railway workers June 28.

The three western commandants called a meeting on the situation today. Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, the Soviet commandant, failed to attend.

In a sharp letter to Kotikov, the western commanders declared: "We are not prepared to continue with discussions on the normalization of life in Berlin until we can be confident that agreements freely negotiated will be honored by the Soviet authorities."

French Gen. Jean Ganeval told reporters that since the strike settlement "the Soviet authorities have never stopped violating the promises they gave."

"We have warned them repeatedly, and have tried twice to have four-power meetings on the subject," he said.

Night Club Is "Off Limits" To Bogart After Fracas

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP) — Humphrey Bogart, the bad man of Casablanca, won't be traveling the road to El Morocco for some time to come.

The plush midtown night club of that name posted the "off limits" sign for Bogey after his second fracas of the year on the premises.

Two pretty girls did boomps-a-daisy on the carpet, there were some (real) flying saucers, and when it was all over the film star was on both the sidewalk and El Morocco's blacklist.

It all started with a couple of pandas.

Not real pandas—but those four-foot cuddly toys that give any normal woman a case of the gimmes.

Bogey and his pal Bill Seeman dropped into the club Sunday morning—not with their wives, but with pandas, one each.

The inevitable happened.

Miss Robin Roberts, a fashion model at another table, made a pass at Bogey's panda. He leaped up to grab it, overshot, and tumbled Miss Roberts to the floor. Then banker's daughter Peggy Rabe made her grab and took a short count, too.

There was a good deal of pulling and hauling and saucer flying until John and Mickey Jelke collected their girl friends and left. Then waiters gave Bogey and pandas a gentle heave-ho.

Bogart was probably ahead on points, but the Jelkes won hands down on conversation.

Their parting shot:

"He's beginning to believe his own scripts."

Murray renewed his insistence that companies must pay all the cost of social security programs or be struck at 12:01 a. m. Eastern Standard Time Saturday at expiration of the presidential strike truce.

The Big Steel proposal called for the corporation to pay up to four cents an hour per man for insurance and six cents for pensions with employes paying remaining costs of the program.

The steel offer depends on the union's willingness to extend the present contract for a year beyond its present expiration date of April 30, 1950. The pact was reopened this year on "rates of pay" and insurance.

Man Found Guilty In Numbers Killing

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28. (AP)—A criminal court jury returned a first degree murder verdict today against William Fields Sampson, 23, for the numbers racket killing of John Davis.

Sampson, formerly an Elizabethtown, N. C., resident, admitted shooting Davis when Davis refused to pay off on a winning bet Sampson had placed with him. Sampson claimed he shot in self-defense.

Judge E. Paul Mason deferred sentence pending action on a motion for a new trial. The conviction carries either a death sentence or life imprisonment.

Planes Pose Problem For Timetable Experts

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP) — Air Force Secretary Symington disclosed tonight that "man has now flown and lived at speeds hundreds of miles an hour faster than the speed of sound" — which is 760 miles an hour at sea level.

The Air Force has admitted possession of a super-sonic plane the X-1, but it has been consistently cagey about its exact top speed.

Whether Symington meant this plane or some other, he did not specify. But in an address to the National Security Industrial Association, he said:

"This same plane, if it had the range, would arrive in San Francisco before it left New York. That will give worry to the timetable experts."

Hoey Plans Fall Recreation Activities

Several competitive leagues are being considered by Edmund F. Hoey, recreation director, for fall recreation in the city.

Service, civic, fraternal or other groups interested in joining a touch football league should contact Hoey. The recreation department would furnish officials and equipment and arrange for fields for the contests.

Plans are also being made for checker and chess tournaments. Those interested are asked to contact Hoey.

The tournament would be held in a central place and be divided into four groups: Girls to 16; boys to 16, men and wamen.

The Cumberland Recreation Board announced yesterday that application blanks for employment as maintenance workers with the recreation department are available at Hoey's office in the City Hall.

$50,000 Stadium Campaign Begins

Agreement petitions are being circulated in a campaign to raise $50,000 for the construction of a baseball stadium in Cumberland.

The petition asks subscribers to note how many shares of stock, at $10 a share, they wish in the corporation which is to be called the "Queen City Stadium, Inc."

Charles A. Roeder, 609 Piedmont Avenue, said several workers have the agreements and more are available if others want to join the subscription campaign.

Depending upon the success of the subscription campaign, Roeder said actual construction could not get underway until February as the Legislature would have to give the Board of County Commissioners power to sell land needed for the project.

The stock subscription agreement provides that in event $50,000 is not raised by September 1, 1950, the agreement would not be binding.

Maggie The Mule Adopts Calf And Turns Belligerent

WICHITA, Kas., Sept. 28—(AP)—Maggie the mule didn't fall or jump or climb into anything, she just grew maternal and adopted a calf.

Maggie's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Graham, Wichita, said the mule wandered into a nearby field and came back to her stable with Roy Shirkey's heifer calf—to mother.

Mothering's unusual for a mule. Being hybrids they don't reproduce.

The calf was returned to Shirkey. "Maggie raised an awful racket," said Mrs. Graham today. "She seemed heartbroken."

So the Grahams bought a baby bull for Maggie to care for, the same color and size as the heifer she'd stolen.

Maggie heard that bull calf bawl, when we put it in the stable reports Mrs. Graham. She just took it over."

"The calf tries to nurse, but Maggie can't feed it—so we take care of the feeding."

Maggie's about 25 years old, Graham estimates. She's been a show piece—featured in horse show parades.

She used to be friendly—could be saddled for neighborhood boys and girls to ride.

But gentle Maggie has turned belligerent.

"Now she'd rather use her back feet," Graham said.

Joe Cannon, speaker of the House of Representatives from 1903 to 1911, was known more for his candor and explosive temper than for tact. Accordingly, he had many bitter enemies. One day an intimate confided that another congressman was circulating a number of particularly vile rumors about "Uncle Joe." Cannon chewed his cheroot thoughtfully and said, "Well now, that's mighty strange; I can't account for it at all. I can't remember having done that fellow a single favor."

Senators Upset Boston, 2-1; Yankees Win

Two-Run Ninth Wins Tilt For Scarborough

Parnell Wild Pitches Winning Tally Home; Yanks Tie For Lead

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) — The tail-end Washington Senators dumped the Boston Red Sox back into a first place tie with the New York Yankees tonight by beating the Red Sox, 2-1. The Senators scored both of their runs in the ninth inning with Al Kozar romping home with the winning run from third on Mel Parnell's wild pitch.

The Yanks, trailing by a game had beaten the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5, in the afternoon. The defeat snapped an 11-game Boston winning streak.

Chuck Stobbs, doubled and scored the lone Boston run on a single in the sixth inning and had the Senators' blanked on four hits going into the ninth.

Roberto Ortiz singled to get the Senator rally going. Gil Coan ran for Ortiz and moved to second on pinch-hitter Ed Stewart's sacrifice. Eddie Robinson beat out a hit and Coan romped to third.

Kozar followed with a single to left to score Coan with the tying run and chase Stobbs in favor of Ellis Kinder.

Sam Dente greeted Kinder with a single to right but sharp fielding by Al Zarilla held Robinson on third and the bases were loaded.

Mel Parnell, the majors top winner, relieved Kinder and Buddy Lewis went in to bat for Al Evans.

The squeeze was put on but the pitch was so wide Lewis couldn't offer at it and Robinson was an easy out at the plate with Kozar going to third. Parnell then committed his wild pitch and Kozar raced home with the winning run.

Rae Scarborough went all the way for Washington and allowed only four hits to gain his 13th win against 11 defeats. The Senators previously had lost 14 straight games to the Sox. Box:

Cats Will Play First Road Tilt

5 Ex-Staters To Play For Shepherd

KEYSER, W. Va., Sept. 28—The Potomac State Catamounts were hard at work in preparation for their first of three games away from home this weekend. Their game with their traditional rivals, the Shepherd Rams, at Shepherdstown this Saturday will be their first Conference test of the year.

This tilt always has been a hard fought contest and the Rams have served notice that this is their year to win. The Catamounts are expecting the game to be especially hard this year, since they will be playing against five of their former teammates.

Big Jim McFarland and Dick Harminson will be playing at ends for Shepherd Saturday, and both of them played on the championship Catamount team of 1947. Robert Tabor will be at center and Fred Tweedlie at guard against the Cats. Homer Henderson, one of the best left-handed passers to play at Potomac State, will be tossing them for Shepherd in this game, and his sharp-shooting is feared greatly by Coach Dana Lough. Lough lamented today, that the former Catamounts always seem to play their hardest against State.

Potomac State will not play on their home field again until October 22, when they meet Concord in the annual Homecoming game.

Challenge Match Sought By Locke

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Sept. 28 (AP) — A Johannesburg businessman said today he was ready to put up $5,600 for challenge golf match between Bobby Locke, the British Open champion, and Dai Rees of Wales, the British match play champion.

Locke and his sponsor, Ted Lawrence, said they were prepared to fly to England any time for a 72-hole match on any British champion ship course.

FRED'S A "COVER MAN"—The above photo of Fred Davis of Cumberland appears on the cover of the attractive football booklet issued by the University of Maryland. Davis, former Fort Hill High School athlete, is captain and end of this year's Maryland eleven which launched its season last Saturday with a 34-7 victory over V.P.I. He will be in the Terps' lineup Friday when Coach Tatum's aggregation meets Georgetown at 8:15 p. m., at College Park. Fred is a senior.

Fort Hill, Allegany To Face Tough Foes Over The Weekend

Calvin Coolidge Meets Sentinels Here Friday; Campers Play Ridgeley

Two of the three city gridiron elevens will face tough foes in home battles over the coming weekend when the Fort Hill High Sentinels meet the Calvin Coolidge High (Washington, D. C.) gridders at Fort Hill stadium Friday night under the lights and the Campers play host to Coach Jesse Riggleman's Potomac Valley Conference co-champion Ridgeley High Blackhawks.

Eight Regulars Back

Coach Bill Hahn of the Scarlet and White Hilltoppers stated last night that visitors from the nation's capital have eight regulars returning from last season's squad which held the Sentinels to a 21-0 decision here.

Coach Gil Conn has a light, speedy outfit and Hahn says he expects plenty of trouble. The visitors captured their only start this season over the Woodrow Wilson High eleven last week by a 6-0 score.

Fort Hill has a record of two victories in three starts this year.

Expected to start against the Sentinels in Friday's contest which will get underway at 8 p. m. are Harrison and Horan at ends, Austin and Rudo at tackles, Katz and Weikert at guards and Suddith at center on the line. The backfield will consist of Tranen at quarter, Richardson and Krukowski at half and Gallagher at full.

Harrison, Austin, Katz, Rudo, Tranen, Krukowski and Gallagher are regulars from last season's squad.

The Fort Hill team is in good shape with the return of Roy Manges who suffered a leg injury two weeks ago. Dewey Lewis, sub fullback, is out with a bruised knee and Jack Corrick, guard, is not expected to play after suffering a lacerated forehead in practice.

Officials Named

Officials for the contest will be Dan Staley, referee; Bee Orndorff, umpire; and Bill Spangler, head linesman.

Tickets for the Fort Hill game are on sale at Wilson Hardware Co., and Truitt's Drug Store as well as at the school.

On the other side of the city, Coach Bob Pence has been putting the Allegany High Campers through stiff defensive scrimmages preparing them for the coming battle with Ridgeley Saturday at 8 p. m. at the local Greenway Avenue stadium.

Allegany won its only two starts while Ridgeley swamped Petersburg last week in its only game and the two undefeated elevens should provide the "battle of the week."

The Blue and White gridders, looking woefully weak on the defensive, have had several tough scrimmages this week and played yesterday in the rain as Pence tried several different combinations in an effort to bolster the Campers' defenses.

Pence Plans Changes

Ronnie Sisk, first string quarterback of the locals, is still out with a shoulder injury suffered last week in the game with Somerset. The shoulder has not responded as quickly as hoped to heat treatments, Pence stated, and Sisk probably will not see action in the Ridgeley contest.

Several other changes are planned by Pence in an effort to get the best winning combination this week. With Sisk out, Blaine Morton, regular right half, will move to quarterback and Ronnie Hoelzer will take over at right half. Charles Eirich, 14-year-old freshman who starred in the Allegany-Beall opener several weeks ago is slated to take over the starting fullback slot in place of Donny Lease, Pence said. The remainder of the Camper lineup will be the same.

Other district games slated over the weekend will find the top-notcher being played at Hagerstown where Coach Mel Henry's Maroon and Gray eleven will tangle with undefeated Martinsburg, W. Va., High's gridders. Martinsburg has copped two decisions over Waynesboro, 15-0, and Roosevelt of Washington, D. C., 20-6. Hagerstown's only start was a victory over Frederick High, 20-6.

Other tilts are P. V. C. contests between Moorefield and Petersburg at Petersburg and Franklin at Romney. Bedford tests Westmont at Johnstown at Bedford and Thomas is host to Lumberport. All these tilts are Friday contests.

Saturday, in addition to Allegany-Ridgeley, West Virginia and Ohio Deaf School elevens will meet and Keyser will play Beall High in Frostburg. Potomac State College will travel to Shepherdstown for its battle with the Shepherd Rams Saturday afternoon.

Purple Heart, Moose Shuffleboard Victors

The Military Order of Purple Heart Auxiliary, Moose Club ladies, Century A. C. of Frostburg and Stadium Inn ladies shuffleboard teams were victorious last night in matches played at the Purple Heart, Cresap Tavern, Stadium Inn and Ruth's Tavern.

Purple Heart defeated VFW Auxiliary 3-0 with Juanita Roby pacing the victors with 29 points and Violet Karns scoring 17 for the VFW.

Moose Club was returned the winner over Cresap Tavern 2-1 with Mrs. Humbertson scoring 21 tallies. Mrs. Harmison and Mrs. Flynn each had 16 for the losers.

Stadium Inn defeated Woodmen of the World ladies 2-1 and Dolly Minnicks tallied 37 markers for the evening's high mark. Betty Kiser had 18 for the WOW.

Century blanked Ruth's Tavern 3-0 with Ann Ingal's 33 high score. Ora Hall had 15 for Ruth's.

Maryland To Oppose Georgetown On Friday

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 28. (AP)—Coach Jim Tatum continued working out his Maryland football squad behind closed doors today, but word seeping over the fence indicated he's giving the boys a strenuous week-long workout in defensive play in preparation for Friday night's game against Georgetown.

"Georgetown has one of the trickiest offensive running attacks we're likely to meet up with, and a good passing attack to go with it," Tatum said.

McKalvey, Topper Advance In Tourney

John Toper and James McKalvey advanced another round in the Cumberland Country Club's men's fall handicap golf tournament in matches played yesterday afternoon.

Topper defeated Robert Lacy 6 and 5 in a championship flight affair to advance to the semi-finals. McKalvey was returned the victor over R. Morrison 1 up in 18 holes in a second flight match and advanced to the finals.

Shotton Puts Hopes On Big Ralph Branca

Dodger Ace To Hurl Final Tilt

By TED SMITS

BOSTON, Sept. 28 (AP) — Manager Burt Shotton of the Brooklyn Dodgers, his team made idle by rain, plotted his pitching strategy today for the rest of the season, naming his choices in order as Preacher Roe, Joe Hatten, Don Newcombe and Ralph Branca.

The Dodgers now trail the Cardinals in the hot National League race by a single game. Shotton's selection of Branca for the season's final and possibly decisive game against Philadelphia means that the forthright, white-haired manager is pinning his hopes on the man who was the center of one of the season's biggest "rhubarbs."

Roe and Hatten, two left handers, will face the Boston Braves' aces, Warren Spahn and John Sain, in a double header tomorrow.

To win or tie for the pennant, the Dodgers almost certainly need to win all their remaining four games —and hope that the Cardinals falter.

"The 'rhubarb' hasn't changed my high opinion of Ralph, and I'm going to use him Sunday if I'm satisfied his finger is completely healed, and it ought to be by then," said Shotton.

The "rhubarb" arose after Shotton lifted Branca in the eighth inning of last Sunday's game against the Phillies, with the Dodgers leading 3-1.

His relief, Jack Banta was ineffective and the Phillies won 5-3, costing the Dodgers a full game in the torrid National League race.

Catcher Roy Campanella reported to Shotton that Branca was losing his stuff, and Shotton took a look at his finger and sent him to the showers.

Later an acrimonious argument developed over whether Branca had a painful spot of raw skin on his forefinger, a blister, or nothing but an old callous, and there was a flurry of second guessing.

Westernporter Gets Prize Fish

Bud Fisher Lands Trout In New York

Leslie "Bud" Fisher, Westernport fisherman, and member of the Piedmont Game and Fish Conservation Club, landed a prize rainbow trout last week while fishing at Watkins Glen in southern New York state.

The large trout is a record catch and weighed 11¼ pounds. The length of the fish was 32 inches and it spanned 16 inches in girth. Fisher, with the help of his 15-year-old son, John, caught the fish in the Inlet of Seneca Lake, with a Kausch-7 spoon. The trout had a large lampry eel attached.

Fisher will be given approximately $100 in prizes, awarded by the Outdoorsmen magazine, at a joint meeting of the Piedmont Game and Fish Conservation Club and the Mineral County Council of Conservation at 7 p. m. in Fireman's hall Piedmont Friday.

Bonham's Widow Gets Pension Fund Check

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28 (AP) — The first payment out of the baseball players' pension fund was mailed today to Mrs. Ruth T. Bonham, widow of the late Tiny Bonham of the Pittsburgh club.

It was for $90, Walter Mulbry, secretary of baseball, announced. Mulbry also is administrator of the pension fund.

Mrs. Bonham will receive a check for $90 each month for 10 years. Mulbry said.

Bonham, a pitcher, died last week following an operation. He had been in the major leagues for almost ten years.

Browns Plan To Use Nine Pitchers In Game

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28 (INS) — The St. Louis Browns plan to end the baseball season with a flourish.

They announced today that Brownie fans who have been complaining all season about the lack of pitching are going to see that the Brownies have at least nine assorted hurlers.

The management said they would use a different pitcher each inning in the second game of a doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox, Oct. 2.

DiMaggio May Not Play In Boston Series

Yankee Clipper Is Still Too Ill, Weak

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, $100,000 a year center fielder of the New York Yankees, remains a doubtful starter in the million dollar series against the American League's pace-setting Boston Red Sox this weekend.

The Yankee Clipper, stricken with a virus infection a little over a week ago, worked out briefly for the first time today prior to the Yanks clash with the Philadelphia Athletics.

DiMaggio cut at 15 pitches and banged one into the stands but complained of weariness and expressed doubt of participating in the all important series with the Red Sox.

"I'm going right back to my hotel and rest, but I'll be out again tomorrow," DiMaggio said. "I feel pretty weak right now after taking batting practice, but my temperature was normal all day yesterday and it was normal after the workout. I'm watching that very closely these days."

A listener suggested that DiMaggio might be able to make a comeback against the Red Sox but Joe said, "it will have to be an awfully quick comeback. I only have two days, tomorrow and Friday."

"The trouble is that I've been so weak. I'd lie there and sweat at night and would change from one bed to another a half dozen times a night.

"I haven't weighed myself so I don't know how much I've lost, but it must be quite a bit."

George Hott Works Out In Backfield

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. Sept. 28 (AP) — Another secret practice of West Virginia University's football team was held here today in preparation for the tussle with Washington and Lee's Generals at Charleston Saturday.

Just what went on at the airport practice field no one outside of the coaching staff and the players themselves knew, for the gates were kept locked.

Earlier in the week, however, Coach Dud DeGroot had declared he was going to try out new combinations of players "to see if we can't strengthen our defense for Saturday's battle."

Yesterday, it was learned, Ray Caldwell, veteran from Mullens and six-foot three-inch George Hott, sophomore speedster from Moorefield, worked out extensively in deep backfield slots.

Polio Outbreak Cancels Yale-Fordham Game

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 28 (INS)—A mild outbreak of poliomyelitis on the Yale University campus, with three cases among undergraduates, including one member of the football team, today caused postponement of the Yale-Fordham game scheduled for Saturday.

Richard D. Liechty was the member of the team hospitalized with the disease.

A freshman football game with Chesire Academy also scheduled for Saturday, has been postponed.

The university announced that the Bulldogs will hold light conditioning drills for the next ten days under constant medical supervision.

Bowie Reduces Value Of Breeders Stake

BOWIE, Md., Sept. 28 (AP)— Bowie is reducing the value of one of its six stakes at its 13-day meeting starting Nov. 19.

Nomination blanks distributed today showed the Bowie Breeders Stake on Nov. 30 will be cut from $10,000 to $7,500.

The other stakes are: Nov. 19—$10,000 Thomas K. Lynch Memorial; Nov. 24—$10,000 Endurance Handicap; Nov. 25 — $10,000 W. P. Burch Memorial; Nov. 26 — $10,000 Prince George Autumn Handicap; Dec. 3 —$20,000 Bryan and O'Hara Memorial Handicap.

Nippy Jones Is Lost To Cards Rest Of Season

Ailing Back Puts Slugger In Bed

By JOE REICHLER

PITTSBURGH Sept. 28 (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals' pennant hopes received a jolt today when it was learned that Nippy Jones, their hard-hitting first baseman, would be lost to them for the remaining days of the season.

Jones' ailing back, which has kept him on the sidelines the last few days, has been getting worse instead of better. He reported to the park today in such pain that Manager Eddie Dyer ordered him back to St. Louis for a consultation with Dr. Robert F. Hyland. Jones will undergo a complete medical examination and hospital treatment. He will be bedded for a week or more.

Dyer, whose spirits already were dampened by the cold, bitter, steady rain that drenched Forbes Field and made play against Pittsburgh impossible today, took his latest blow very hard.

"Jones is one of our best hitters," he said. "He was the right-handed punch that offset southpaw pitching against us. Losing Nippy's clutch hitting is certain to hurt us. With some of the other boys not hitting right now, we could use Nippy's big bat."

Jones current batting average is .302. Batting chiefly against left-handed pitching, Nippy has driven in 62 runs. Rookie Steve Bilko, up from Rochester, will fill in at first against lefties with Glen Nelson set to go against righthanders.

Today's rained out game will be played tomorrow. Roy Hamey, Pirates' general manager, announced that, weather permitting the seasons' finale between the two clubs, will start at 1:30 p. m. (EST). If old man weather persists in being spiteful, the game would be postponed until tomorrow night.

Lemon Pitches, Bats Tribe To Victory, 4-2

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP) — Bob Lemon filled a dual role today as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Chicago White Sox, 4-2. The victory put the Indians a length and a half behind third place Detroit.

Lemon pitched a five-hitter to gain his twenty-second victory, two more than he won for the Tribe's pennant winning machine last season. The former outfielder-turned-pitcher also batted in two of Cleveland's runs and scored the third in the Tribe's three-run third. Box:

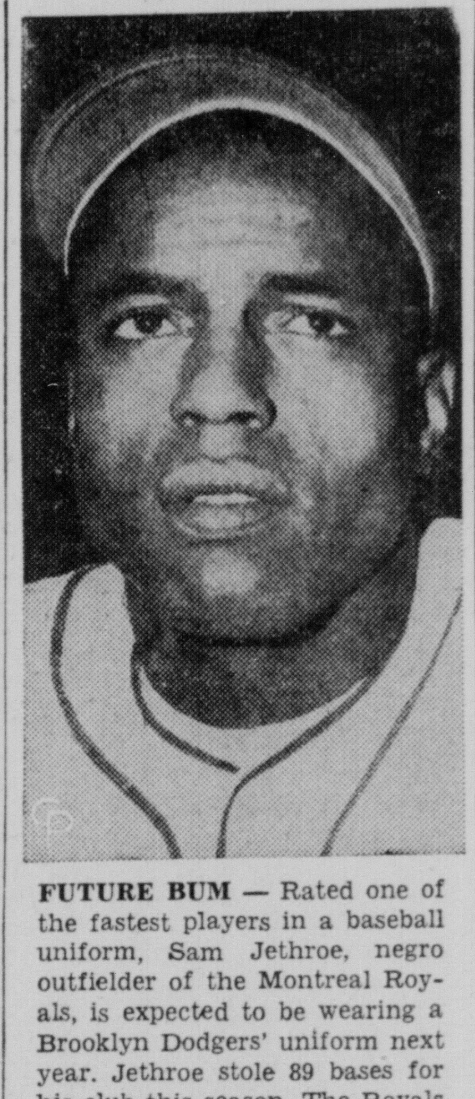
Brasher Returns To Maryland Lineup

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 28 (AP)—First string defensive center Jim Brasher was back in the University of Maryland lineup today as the Terp gridders continued preparations for Firday night's clash with Georgetown.

Brasher has been out with a knee injury since a scrimmage with the University of Pennsylvania nearly two weeks ago. His return is expected to bolster the Maryland defense considerably.

Coach Jim Tatum has maintained all along that Georgetown, which coordinates a good running attack with a deceptive passing display is one of the best offensive teams in this section of the country. The scrimmage today concentrated on the defense.



FUTURE BUM — Rated one of the fastest players in a baseball uniform, Sam Jethroe, negro outfielder of the Montreal Royals, is expected to be wearing a Brooklyn Dodgers' uniform next year. Jethroe stole 89 bases for his club this season. The Royals won the Shaughnessy playoffs in the International League and will meet the American Association winner in the Little World Series.

Phillies' Homers Trip Giants, 2-0

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 (AP)—Home runs by Del Ennis and Ed Sanicki and the six hit pitching off Russ Meyer sparked the Philadelphia Phillies to a 2-0 triumph over the New York Giants today.

Ennis belted his 24th home run in the second inning and Sanicki, a rookie up from Toronto, socked his third in the seventh.

Besides the circuit blasts Sheldon Jones of the Giants allowed only two singles.

Meyer's triumph was his 17th of the season compared to eight defeats. Box:

Yankees Rally In Seventh To Top A's, 7-5

Page Is Victor; Reynolds Stars In Relief Stint

By JOHN BARRINGTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (INS) — The New York Yankees kept their American League pennant hopes alive today by scoring three runs in the seventh inning to down the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 5.

The victory raised the Yanks to within a half game of the place setting Boston Red Sox, who play the Washington Senators tonight in the nation's capital.

It was't never-say-die rally that was responsible for the Yankee win. They had blown a 4 to 0 advantage in the top of the seventh when the Mackmen pushed five runs across to take a 5 to 4 lead.

Then the New Yorkers bounced back with three markers in the bottom half of the frame.

Joe Page, who relieved starter Byrne in the seventh, received credit for his twelfth win, although he wasn't around at the finish.

It remained for Allie Reynolds, the fellow Page has saved on innumerable occasions this season, to come in and hold the fort for Joe and the Yanks.

Old Wahoo really had it, striking out the last four men to face him.

A couple of home runs had aided the Yanks to a four run lead over starter Joe Coleman in the first six innings.

Phil Rizzuto, stole second and scored on Yogi Berra's base hit in the first.

Bobby Brown's sixth homer made it 2-0 in the third and they got another pair in the sixth on Rizzuto's second safety and Rookie Jim Delsing's first major league home run.

The A's buzzed back in the seventh and knocked Byrne out of the box. Sam Chapman walked. He was moved to third by Pete Suder's one bagger. They both scored on a deep hit to right by Nelson Fox.

Fred Sanford came in to pitch and got one out. But Wally Moses worked him for a walk and Tod Davis singled to load the bases. Sanford forced in a run by issuing a pass to Elmer Valo, and Page was called to the rescue.

Balks Home Run

Bobby Brown erred on Don White's bounder and Ferris Fain walked to force in the fifth run of the inning. A double play grounder by Chapman ended the inning.

After two were out in the Yanks' climactic seventh, Tommy Henrich and Johnny Lindell singled off rookie relief hurler Alex Kellner. A walk loaded the bases.

One run was walked in, Rizzuto squeezed home another with a bunt single, his third hit of the game, and Kellner gifted the last one across with a balk. Box:

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28. (AP)—Steve Van Buren, Philadelphia Eagles halfback, hopes to crack the National Football League's all-time ground - gaining record Monday against the Detroit Lions.

Loser Weeper Is Belmont Winner

Wins By Nose In $15,000 Feature

ELMONT, N. Y., Sept. 28 (AP)—Coming from last place with a hurricane finish, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Loser Weeper was up in the final stride to win the 10th running of the $15,000 added Vosburg Handicap before 14,522 fans at Belmont Park today.

With Eric Guerin in the irons, the 4-year-old son of Discovery-Outdone, defeated Hal Price Headley's Lithe by a nose. Fred W. Hooper's Colosal, who won the race last year and was the 3-1 favorite today, was only a half length behind in third place.

Loser Weeper stepped the seven furlongs in the corking time of 123, only one second off the track mark set by Roseben away back in 1906.

Cornwall Is Winner

LAUREL, Md., Sept. 28 (AP)—Cornwall, owned by Abram S. Hewitt, sprinted to a two and a half length victory in the $7,500 Richard Johnson Stakes for two year olds before approximately 8,500 fans at Laurel today.

Eastern Flyaway, 22-1 chance, finished second with Puppet third. Westhampton, second choice in the betting, wound up fifth behind Jess Linthicum, which was left at the post but rallied to get fourth money.

The victor was favored and paid $7.40, $4.00 and $3.00 across the board. It was the first stakes victory for Cornwall, which was beaten by Westhampton in his last start at Atlantic City in the Seashore Stakes. The two-year-old colt earned a purse of $6,065.

Stout Takes Lead

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 28 (AP)—Jimmy Stout rode his second winner of the afternoon in the Rotary Club purse, sixth and best race of the day, when he drove the Jerry McCarthy Stables' Mint O'Morn to a length and one half victory.

Frank Yacovelli's Bullow, favorite in the six horse field was second by a like margin over Palatine Stable's Normrich.

Mint O'Morn, winner of his last outing here, moved up in class in the Rotary and returned a $17.40 mutuel. He was clocked in 1:13 for the six furlongs.

Stout had previously won with Rock Span in the fourth event and Mint O'Morn's score sent the Lakewood, N. J., rider to the front in the jockey's race with 45 triumphs, one more than Johnny Gilbert's total.

Boys Steal Elderly Woman's Purse

Mrs. I. T. Holland, 71, of Michigan, reported two small boys snatched her purse at 7:55 yesterday near the Episcopal church on Washington Street.

Officer Kenneth W. Morrissey said the purse contained more than $100 in cash and checks. Mrs. Holland reported the boys fled into an alley after taking the pocketbook.

An unidentified man stole a purse from Price's Store, North Centre Street, at 4:50 p. m., according to police. The purse contained about $25, police reported.

Would Seek

He said Burza Manlin, Westernport policeman, notified Deputy Sheriff Edgar Lewis, who was at the rectory of St. James Episcopal Church in Westernport. Brashear said Lewis refused to go to the scene.

Melvin DeShong, mine foreman at the W. W Coal Company mine, said a car blocked the road to the mine August 18. Westernport police, he said, called the Sheriff's office and were told the sheriff would go to the scene immeditely. The sheriff, he said, failed to arrive.

DeShong said Dolphin, who he claimed was among a group of pickets at the mine, asked him what he was doing. When DeShong replied he was at the mine to feed the ponies, Dolphin is reported to have answered:

"If you bring the ponies to the Fair Grounds we will take care of them for you."

The next week, he said, the private road to the mine was blocked with rocks and fence posts.

Greeted With Shotgun

William Brashear said his son greeted a band of pickets who visited another of his mines with a shotgun Monday.

Mrs. Brashear and their daughter, Mrs. Faye Spencer, he said, ordered about 40 pickets off the property. The pickets, he reported, swore when told to leave, and asked Mrs. Brashear why she was at the mine.

Dolphin, Brashear said, told Mrs. Brashear to return to her home, and threatened to upset the trucks. When the pickets refused to leave, Brashear's son, Wayne, appeared with a shotgun and warned them to leave, Brashear declared.

After the pickets left, Brashear said, he met Dolphin in Westernport. Dolphin, he declared, said:

"Bill, I was out to your place this morning and we were greeted with a shotgun. If you are going to play that way we will go home and get our guns and come back. We can be rough too, you know."

Brashear said he reminded Dolphin that his land was posted as private property. Dolphin, he claimed, told him he had to enter the property in order to turn around.

Dolphin was also quoted as saying, "We are not going to let you work. We will stop your trucks and stop you from putting coal in the paper mill. We will picket there the same as we did at the Celanese."

Brashear said Sheriff Muir and Deputy Chappel arrived three hours later. Muir, he said, told him he was "inviting trouble" by having guns on the property and using them when ordering the pickets to leave.

Muir, he said, asked why Brashear had not called State Police. Brashear reported he told the sheriff that State Police said they could not enter the case until Muir called them in. Muir, he added, said he had been unaware of the State Police policy.

Brashear said last night there are at least 500 non-union miners in Allegany and Garrett counties. Many, he said, would like to work, but are afraid to do so because of "inadequate protection."

Has No Comment

Dolphin, contacted at his home last night said, "I have no comment on anything."

Meanwhile, it was revealed by UMW officials that permits granted to some truckers for coal hauling have been cancelled.

District 16 officials said no permits had been prepared for issue in the Cumberland area. The revoked permits were issued in District 2 at Clearfield, Pa. Permits had been granted so that truckers could haul coal without being stopped by pickets, according to mine union spokesmen.

Women May

This course is designed to help women prepare good meals quickly, but will also be attractive and give nutritive value. Clever hostess ideas will also be included in this food preparation course.

Although the course is offered especially for the business woman, anyone interested in food preparation is eligible to enroll.

Brides May Enroll

Cooking for two, a course for brides and brides-to-be, will be offered on Thursday nights.

What to have, when to have it, and how to cook the food selected is one of the big problems to be settled by the bride and the bride-to-be. This class will offer brides opportunities to learn to select and prepare attractive meals and come to the table smiling.

Modern and quick methods of food preparation will be stressed and also used to be an up-to-date hostess. Although this course is designed especially for brides, many homemakers have the problem of cooking for only two. The course is open to anyone interested in food preparation.

Miss Yola Hudson, teacher of home economics at Fort Hill High School, will be the instructor for both courses in food preparation. She is well known here for her knowledge and ability in food preparation.

The above classes, along with numerous courses to meet the needs of adults, will be held at various centers from 7 to 10 p. m. on the designated nights beginning next week.

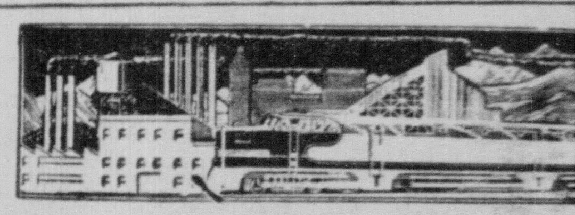
FROSTBURG NEWS FROM THE TRI-STATE AREA KEYSER



Four Are Hurt When Car Hits PE Power Pole

Mathias Girl Is Taken To Hospital

Four persons were injured, one of them seriously, when the car in which they were riding collided with a pickup truck, plunged over a 30-foot embankment and then snapped off a high tension power pole in Mathias, in Hardy County, W. Va., Tuesday night.

Most seriously injured was Truxanna Mongold, 15, Mathias, a passenger in the crash car. She suffered a fractured collarbone, possible fracture of the right arm at the elbow, undetermined head injuries and shock. The girl was unconscious when she was taken to Rockingham Memorial Hospital, Harrisonburg, Va., by ambulance.

The driver, Herbert H. Landes, 21, Petersburg, who suffered a severe blow to the right side of the head and brush burns on the arms when he was thrown from the car, was unconscious for some time following the accident, but recovered quickly after he received first aid treatment and later treatment by a Moorefield physician.

Two other passengers, Ralph Patch, age not available, and Theda May, 17, both of Mathias, were badly shaken up but not seriously injured, State Police said.

Driver Is Jailed

Landes pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving at a hearing before Justice of the Peace J. Harry Dolan in Moorefield yesterday.

Cpl. Ralph Hawkins, who investigated, said Landes was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to serve 30 days in the Hardy County Jail. His operator's license also was suspended for six months.

State Police said the accident occurred Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. on West Virginia Route 259 at Mathias when the 1939 sedan driven by Landes crashed against a 1949 pickup truck driven by David R. Fansler, Mathias.

Driver Stops Truck

Cpl. Hawkins said Fansler, who was driving on a side road from Mathias, brought the pickup truck to a complete stop when he saw the northbound car approach on the left from the main highway.

He said the car struck the right front of the truck, driving it back down the side road, and went on for about 240 feet before plunging over a 30-foot embankment, then tore out several small trees before striking and snapping off the PE high tension line pole.

Three of the passengers of the car were thrown to the ground by the terrific impact which demolished the car.

Fansler, driver of the truck, and James and Gene Stultz, both of Mathias, who were riding in the truck, escaped injury.

State Police said electric service was halted momentarily when the wires of the high tension lines shorted at the moment of impact but was restored when the wires settled down.

Telephone lines to the area, however, were still down last night as a result of the crash.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28—(INS)—Virginia Mayo is so happy on the Warner lot she doesn't care if she works seven days a week. In a year and a half she has made eight pictures which is, I believe, a record—and she loves it.

June Haver

Today she was expressing her delight in being signed for Burt Lancaster's picture, "The Hawk and the Arrow"—just the sort of story she wants.

Virginia has developed from a pretty girl whose cheesecake art was always in demand to a really good actress. When she was on the Goldwyn lot everyone said, "Oh, yes, she's pretty—but she can't act." No one is saying that these days.

A most surprising piece of casting is that of Louis Calhern to take Morgan's place in "Annie Get Your Gun." Perhaps it is a very wise move since no one could ever copy Frank, and Louis Calhern is completely different.

I've just received a picture, probably the last photograph taken, of Frank Morgan at the cocktail party Harry Crocker gave for Luli Kollsman. It is a picture of Frank, Luli and myself. He looks so well and happy in the photograph that it seems hard to realize he's gone.

I doff my topper to Lois Schenck (no relation to my friend Joseph M.) who turned failure into success on Broadway. Lois is the ex-chorus girl who, when she could not get a job, bought herself a pair of slacks and a shoeshine box and went to work polishing shoes outside Sardi's cafe.

From the money and the tips she made Lois recruited other girls out of work and organized the most glamorous group of shoeshiners in the world, "Gingham Gals Shoe Shine, Inc." She got jobs for them in hotels various theatrical districts, night clubs, etc.

Now, Warners have made a short feature on Lois and her gals which will be released in November and it is so good a writer has been assigned to develop the idea into a full length

Two Orbellos Charged In Gaming Case

A second member of the Orbello family became involved in a state gaming law violation case yesterday as warrants were issued in Trial Magistrates Court against the two brothers.

The warrants were against Larry Orbello, alias Frank Harbell, who was arrested September 19 by City Police for allegedly accepting bets on horses at his place of business, and Frank Orbello, alias Frank Harbell, both of 113 North Mechanic Street.

Through their attorney, Edward J. Ryan, both were released under $500 bond for action of the October grand jury.

Tuesday, City Solicitor Thomas B. Finan said the Larry Orbello case had been referred to the State's Attorney's office along with police files and evidence. In view of the state charge, the minor city accusation apparently will be dropped.

The warrant for his brother, Frank Orbello, reads that he "did on September 19, rent and use the premises at 113 North Mechanic Street, in the City of Cumberland, for purposes of betting, waging and gambling."

No testimony was taken at yesterday's hearing and neither brother appeared. Ryan telephoned that they would waive preliminary hearings. Later both Orbellos appeared to post collateral.

Witnesses in the case were summoned to appear before the grand jury at 9:15 a. m. Wednesday.

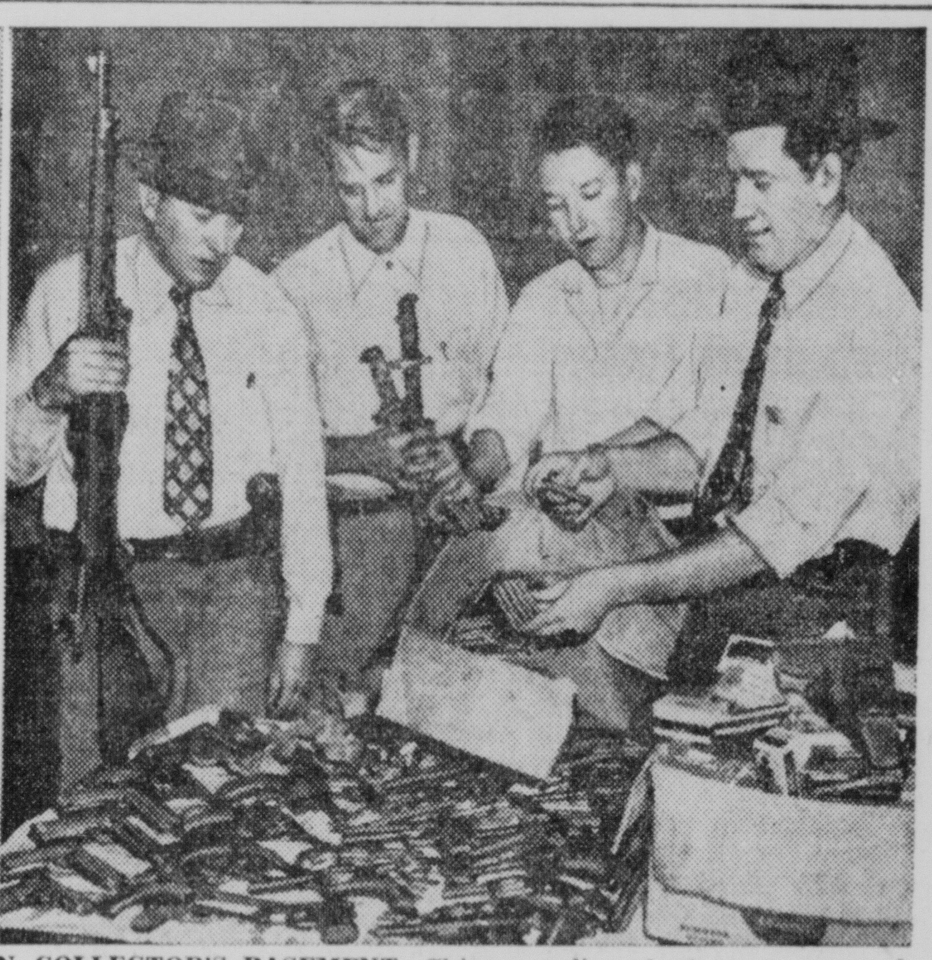
Skidmore Held On $10,000 Bond

Bond for hearing before the grand jury in Martinsburg, W. Va., was set at $10,000 Tuesday as a Frostburg man appeared before Justice of the Peace King Larkin on charges of armed robbery and attempted robbery.

Robert Francis Skidmore, 20, has signed a statement admitting that he used a gun to rob G. W. S. Carper, Sr., of $35 at the Bantz Jewelry Store, Martinsburg, September 10, Skidmore said.

The other charge involves the attempted holdup of a woman restaurant owner the day before.

The case will come up at the October term of Berkeley County Circuit Court.



FIND SMALL ARSENAL IN GUN COLLECTOR'S BASEMENT—Chicago police check over some of the "war souvenirs" discovered in the basement of Julian Wohlkuen (left), a war veteran. The small arsenal of 35 guns, 11 automatics, 10,000 rounds of ammunition, a live grenade and some bayonets were discovered after a neighbor had complained that Wohlkuen had threatened her 7-year-old son with a weapon. He told officials he was a gun collector. Police say all guns were loaded and will be deactivated. A national drive is on to make dangerous "souvenirs" harmless.

The ham and chicken supper will be held at the Flintstone Fire Hall from 5 to 8 p.m.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Absent-Minded Comedians

BOB Hope, the nation's favorite radio comedian, devoted about half of his opening show of the season to wisecracks about television killing radio. "But radio has so much more to offer—things like money," he exclaimed with some wistfulness. There ensued a skit in which he was thrown out of his own studio by a television crew, then a gag about Milton Berle.

John Crosby

"You know Berle made a picture out here this summer. I don't know if he stole anything, but the studio is now called Warner Brother. There was even one of those telegrams. "Miss Ryan, ever since your face has appeared on barroom television, our place is crowded every night. (signed) Alcoholic Anonymous." I don't know who stole what from who, but Berle had his telegrams on the air an hour earlier the same night.

• — • — •

Well, television is certainly fair game for the comedians and we can expect a good many jokes on the subject this season. But I don't know whom the joke is on, exactly. The opening of the Hope show, as well as the openings of a good many other big, popular radio shows this season, indicates that the comedians don't think television is as funny as they are making out. While these old-time radio favorites don't sound precisely alarmed, they do sound a little absent-minded as if they were turning over their own television plans in their minds even while they were making jokes about the medium.

Radio may be with us for a long time to come—as I certainly believe it is—but it seems to be in a state of paralysis. Most of the big shows that have reopened this season have had a tired, frayed air about them. The writers appear to have dished out their old, old material by some sort of involuntary spastic action that didn't involve the cradium at all. Their minds, like those of the comedians, seemed to be on other things.

The Hope show in particular emphasized that the nation's favorite comedian is going to be a lot hotter on television than he is on radio. It opened, as it always has, with more noise than a circus, the audience trying to outshout the orchestra and succeeding pretty well.

The nation's favorite radio comedian came aboard and told three jokes in rapid succession about the outstanding romances of the summer. "Boy, is Rita's baby going to be healthy. I can just hear Rita saying: 'Go ahead, Junior, eat your emeralds!' And this summer Jimmy Stewart got married. It was a novel ceremony. The bride said: 'I do.' And the groom said: 'Oh, shucks!'" There was another one about Stromboli, something to do with Miss Ingrid Bergman. I missed it.

• — • — •

The broadcast ended with Mr. Hope, as some instinct told me he would, diving into the English channel and wisecracking his way to the white cliffs of Dover. Shirley May France is getting more publicity by missing her big chance than she would if she'd made it. (Take note, press agents. The gallant failure hasn't begun to be exploited).

Mr. Hope is assisted, as he was last year, by Doris Day, who sings prettily enough; by his announcer, Hy Averbach; by a stooge named Jack Kirkwood whose trademark is the line "Put something in the pot, boy" and who is quite a handy man for Hope to have around; and by Irene Ryan, a professional hypochondriac, whose act has worn a little thin.

As for Hope himself, I still think he'll be a great man in television even if there isn't any money in it.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

SAVING OUR BACON

MOST BRIDGE players, when they get loquacious, like to tell how they saved their partners from trouble. Have you yet seen one who goes around telling how some partner saved his bacon? If so, you have had an exceedingly rare experience. But there is not one of us who has not been kept or pulled out of a jam by some action of the worthy across the table.

	♠ Q 6 5 ♥ 10 5 2 ♦ Q 9 8 4 3 ♣ Q 5
♠ 10 9 8 7 ♥ 4 3 ♦ 7 5 2 ♣ K J 10 2	N W E S	♠ J ♥ J 9 8 7 ♦ K J 10 ♣ A 9 6 4 3
	♠ A K 4 3 2 ♥ A K Q 6 ♦ A 6 ♣ 8 7

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♦

Yes, sir, North actually passed that. It was as hard for South to believe his ears as for you to swallow this story. South, having heard North show a preference for the spades, meant the 3-Diamonds to be an ace-showing cue bid as a gentle slam invitation, none too logical in view of his partner's weak 1-No Trump call on the first round.

North's angle on it was that he thought South was showing a third suit, hoping for a No Trump game contract if North could stop the unbid clubs. His own hand was so terribly weak that he didn't dare switch from the 3-Diamonds to 3-Spades, as he said, South would surely have gone then to 4-Spades. South admitted afterward that he would have, and as it developed the spade game would have been defeated.

Playing at the 3-Diamonds, with just two trumps, South managed to make his contract, losing only two tricks in each minor.

That outcome was very happy for the pair, since the part score produced just enough more points to win the rubber game on the next deal.

But which of the two partners tells this story? North, not South.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Ernest W. Dolan, who died in Service September 29, 1918.

Just 31 years ago today,
God called our loved one away.
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of passing without farewell.
He little thought when leaving home
That he would never return again,
God alone knows how much I miss him,
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where he is laid.

Sadly missed by his Mother,
MRS. SUSANNAH DOLAN.

Valera K. McCaslin vs. Rogers M. McCaslin.

No. 21399 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County.

The object of this suit is to secure a decree a vinculo matrimonii divorcing the plaintiff from the defendant. The bill states that the parties were married at Baltimore, Maryland, on July 1st, 1942; that no children were born of the marriage; that the defendant without just cause deserted and abandoned the plaintiff, and that the abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for over 18 months and that there is no reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that the plaintiff is a resident of Allegany County, while the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon this 7th day of September, 1949, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, once a week for four successive weeks before the 10th day of October, 1949, giving notice to the absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 26th day of October, 1949, and show cause why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Is the urge to gamble a form of neurosis?

Answer: Any urge which drives a person to do what his good sense tells him is against his interests is in some degree neurotic, since this involves the subjection of intelligence to unconscious, and thus uncontrollable emotion. And the less he understands the urge, the less he can resist it. The fellow who "has to" gamble is one who has been unable to give up the childish belief that his wishes have a magic power to make themselves come true and identifies that power with "luck." The fact he sometimes wins confirms this idea.

Can a person begin growing up at thirty?

Answer: Certainly, or even later. I have found that it is usually around thirty that the average maladjusted person starts to realize that he is somehow on the wrong track and to make an effort to take stock of himself, either with or without help. You begin to grow up on the day when you first face the fact that the cause of your failures and dissatisfactions is in yourself, not in your "luck" or the way that other people treat you. And you advance to emotional maturity as you adjust yourself to reality instead of running away from it.

Can disease be "purely physical"?

Answer: No, says Dr. Forest M. Harrison in an article on "Psychophysical Unity." It is impossible to understand disease if you attempt to draw a sharp line between "organic" and "functional" illness. For on one hand, every physical symptom and reaction of the body has its effect on the mind of the patient, and conversely, every emotional and mental state has immediate repercussions on all the tissues and cells of the body. Every illness of the mind or body is thus a "psychophysical problem," and physicians never should forget this.

Rising Market Runs Right Into Steel Contract Deadlock

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP) — A rising stock market ran headlong into a new deadlock in steel contract negotiations late today.

The market's advance was snapped off cleanly after CIO leader Philip Murray announced that negotiations were deadlocked. The announcement once more raised the threat that the steel industry might be tied up by a strike scheduled for Friday midnight unless agreement is reached before then.

Trading volume was heaviest during the mid-morning buying splurge. Turnover amounted to 1,300,000 shares, against 1,070,000 Tuesday. It was the twelfth session in a row that volume exceeded 1,000,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .7 of one point to 65.6. The industrial group scored the largest rise, followed by rails. The utility section showed no change.

Trading broadened to include 1,045 issues, of which 656 moved forward and 190 declined. A total of 52 issues sold at new highs for 1949 while only four hit bottom for the year.

Aircraft issues, which made a strong showing yesterday, again attracted support. Douglas at 63 was up 2⅛ while fractional advances were posted for North American Aviation at 10¼, Republic Aviation 6⅜, Boeing 21½, United Aircraft 23⅞, and Lockheed 20⅝. Consolidated Vultee, however, dipped ⅛ at 11.

U. S. Steel, second most active issue, finished ½ point up at 23½ after selling at 23⅞ during the day. Bethlehem also added ½ at 28⅛ after touching 25⅝. Up a point or more each were Wheeling Steel at 38⅛, Jones and Laughlin 26, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube 66¼.

Also up were General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Sears Roebuck, Zenith Radio, American Telephone, Commonwealth Edison, American Smelting, du Pont, Eastman Kodak, American Can, American Woolen, International Paper, Sinclair Oil, Standard Oil (NJ), Twentieth Century-Fox, and Johns-Manville.

Railway issues tended upward in the bond market. Long-term U. S. government issues dipped 1-32 to 2-32 of a point in over-the-counter dealings.

Volume expanded to $3,390,000 from $2,630,00 yesterday. This was the best showing since September 13.

Mine Owners May Ask Governor's Aid In Disputes

Would Seek State Police Protection

Violence Reported; Sheriff's Office Is Criticized

Pointing to evidence of violence allegedly resulting from visits of roving pickets, several Westernport area mine owners yesterday demanded adequate protection and said they will ask Governor Lane to send State Police to their aid if county authorities cannot cope with the situation.

Operators criticized attaches of the Sheriff's office, claiming that in some cases they arrived after the pickets had left, and in one instance, refused to go to a mine when summoned.

Sheriff Edward Muir was not available for comment last night, but Deputy Sheriff Chappell said that in Muir's absence he would make the following statement:

"With only four deputies besides the sheriff, we are giving all the protection we can give, and all that seems necessary."

William Brashear, operator of the W. W. Coal Company near Barton, said he feared "someone will be killed" if protection is not given.

He added that operators believe Sheriff Muir should request State Police assistance. If he does not, Brashear declared, mine operators will ask Governor Lane to order State Police to help "before someone is killed."

State Police Policy

First Sgt. W. E. O'Hara of the LaVale Barracks of the State Police said last night the State Police, as a matter of policy, do not enter into disputes of this type unless the sheriff has failed in an attempt to handle the situation. State Police must then receive orders from headquarters before acting, he explained.

O'Hara said his department would intervene without instructions only if coal was being dumped on state roads, or if violence broke out there.

Latest report of violence came yesterday morning from the Frenzel Coal Company Mine near Barton, where pickets allegedly tore up floor boards of a bridge on Potomac Hollow road and stood them in holes to form a barrier to a truck leaving the mine.

Raymond Frenzel, owner of the mine, said the pickets ordered him and the truck owner, Maurice Landers, Hancock, to get out of the truck. When they did, Frenzel said, the pickets dumped the coal into the creek.

Pickets also threw a rock through the truck windshield and warned Frenzel and Landers not to return, Frenzel claimed.

The operator said he then went to the LaVale State Police barracks, where he was reportedly notified State Police could not take a hand in the dispute unless the sheriff declared he was unable to handle it.

At 6 a. m., Frenzel said, he went to the Sheriff's office in Cumberland, but was unable to arouse Sheriff Muir from bed. At 7 a. m., he said, he called again and was informed the sheriff "would send someone up after dinner."

At noon, according to Frenzel, Deputy Sheriff Chappell arrived, looked around and said, "I cannot do anything here."

In other reported cases of violence, James Moran said a gun was fired in a dispute at the Moran strip mine near Westernport Tuesday, trucks were damaged, rocks thrown and weapons brandished in others.

In the alleged shooting, Moran, operator of the Moran Mine, said 50 pickets entered mine property Tuesday, stopped a truck, let the air out of one tire and tore loose the gas line.

Fired In Defense

Moran said they threw stones at his brother, Richard Moran, who he said was forced to fire a pistol to defend himself. The crowd then dispersed, Moran reported.

Moran said he called Sheriff Muir and State Police and that neither would go to the mine, which is located in Garrett County. He added that he then called Sheriff Juniper S. Teats of Garrett County, who arrived just as the pickets were leaving.

The operator also said that last Friday he called Sheriff Muir after he learned pickets were coming in from West Virginia.

Muir, he said, advised him to quit work. Muir and Chappell later arrived at the Moran tipple, he said, to tell him pickets had said Moran was armed.

After Moran told Muir he was unarmed, he said, the sheriff left and seven carloads of pickets arrived from the direction in which Muir and Chappell had come.

Moran identified John Dolphin, UMW representative for District 16, as the leader of the pickets.

Will Pay For Damage

One of the pickets, he said, threw a stone through the windshield of his truck, but later agreed to pay for the damage.

Moran said he told Dolphin he would quit loading coal cars after three more were loaded, but would continue to load fire coal.

"We are going to stop you from working if we have to bring 1,500 men in," he said Dolphin told him.

Wayne Brashear, son of William Brashear, said Dolphin and a band of pickets threatened to upset some of the mine's trucks August 11.

Bridge At Long Will Be Opened Soon

The above photo shows the relocated bridge at Long on Route 40, which is expected to be completed soon. G. Bates Chaires, State Roads Commission district engineer, said the bridge will be completed in about six weeks, except for minor work. The span now lacks only a handrail and sidewalk on the south side. The whole Route 40 relocation project is scheduled to be finished by the end of the year, he said.

Sedan Crashes Into Rock After Driver Dies

Philip Kohl, 56, Has Heart Attack

A 1942 sedan, apparently piloted by a dead driver, came to a halt when confronted by a rock yesterday as it careened off to the right of Route 220 about one-fourth mile north of the McCoole intersection.

According to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, the driver, Gilbert Philip Kohl, 56, of 524 North Mechanic Street, suffered a heart attack at about 2:05 p. m. just before the accident occurred.

Trooper Milton Hart of the LaVale State Police Barracks said Kohl's car was traveling toward Cumberland from Keyser when the car left the road on the right, hit several rocks and was stopped by a small boulder.

Kohl was probably dead before the car hit the stone, the medical examiner said. He added that the victim had suffered from a heart condition for about six years.

A motorist, Warren H. Wagner, Route 3, Keyser, W. Va., notified State Police of the accident, according to Trooper Hart.

Trooper T. M. Gilbert arrived first on the scene. The body was taken to the Boal Funeral Home, Westernport, and then to the Hafer Funeral Home here.

Only the front end of the vehicle was damaged, perhaps to the extent of $75, Trooper Hart said.

A piano tuner for 26 years, Kohl had been employed by the Seifert Furniture and Piano Company here since 1944.

He was born February 17, 1893, a son of Philip and Gertrude Bernard Kohl.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Helen Sellers Kohl; one son, Philip Gilbert Kohl, Alameda, Cal., and a daughter, Mrs. Frederick Clark, Detroit, Mich.

Drivers Post Bond In Collision Here

To local drivers posted $10 bond each on careless driving charges after their vehicles were involved in a collision yesterday afternoon on Cumberland Street.

Officer Carl Stouffer, who inestigated, said a car driven by Robert D. Leedy, 232 Beall Street, struck the rear of a truck operated by John L. Simpson, Route 6, this city, as the truck was turning into a driveway.

Damage to Leady's car was estimated at about $100, and Stouffer said the truck was damaged only slightly.

Both drivers are scheduled to receive hearings in Police Court at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Advanced Gifts Pledges Remain Above 1948 Total

The Advanced Gift Committee Community Chest pledges continue to exceed those received at the same period last year, according to Henry W. Price, committee chairman.

At the group's second report meeting Tuesday in Central Y.M.C.A., a total of $11,394 in pledges was announced. This compares with $10,997 realized on the same pledge cards the year before.

Eighteen cards of the 56 reported on Tuesday showed gains of about $650 over pledges the year before, Price stated.

One worker realized a 31½ per cent increase on eight cards reported Tuesday.

Ninety-eight of the approximately 200 pledge cards given out the workers have been turned into the committee.

Price announced that the original Advanced Gifts goal of $52,500 will have to be revised. Several groups, scheduled to be canvassed early, have been transferred to the Classified Section.

The next report luncheon will be held tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. at Central Y.M.C.A.

Yesterday, the Women's Division, headed by Mrs. John S. Cook, decided to organize an informal advanced gifts section within their own group.

The women will visit approximately 35 persons, scheduled to give larger than average donations, before the real campaign begins October 4.

Mrs. Cook and her executive board announced the last of the ten zone leaders for the division. Mrs. Gertrude Young has agreed to serve in Zone 5, North End.

Lutherans To Study Property Purchase

Members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church have been notified of a congregational meeting to be held Monday at 8 p. m. at the church to discuss possible purchase of the Roman property at 111 Washington Street.

The printed notices distributed among the congregation were signed by Rev. Hixon T. Bowersox, pastor, and D. U. Moffatt, secretary of the vestry.

Complaints Filed

Bills of complaint were filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Lafayette F. Smith against Dorothy E. Smith, and by Eleanor R. Longerbeam against Howard C. Longerbeam.

"Pop" Can Get Back In The Spotlight If He Tries His Hand At YMCA Course

After the cigars have gone around, new fathers are apt to remain pretty much in the background while Mother gets all the attention.

But Central YMCA plans to offer a series of courses, one of which is designed to help prospective or recent fathers get back in the spotlight.

The course will train fathers in how to feed, bathe and care for their infants.

It is one of five classes which the "Y" plans to start October 10 in a popular education program or "PEP School," in co-operation with the adult education department of the Board of Education.

Other courses range from instruction in calling figures for square dancing, to a Little Theatre class.

Winfield H. Adams, general chairman, said the classes will meet once a week at the "Y" building on Mondays or Thursdays from 7 to 9 in the evening, starting October 10 and continuing through November 19.

They are designed chiefly for persons active in church work, PTA, Scout and recreational activities, and club work. List of instructors has not been completed as yet.

The courses will be open to all adults over 18, and a small registration fee will be charged. Those interested are asked to enroll at Central YMCA.

Aside from the "For Fathers Only" course and instruction in country dancing, other courses include:

Group leadership—instruction in effective leadership, conducting meetings and organizing committees.

Little Theatre—a course in acting and speaking, designed to promote interest in the theatre.

Recreation for Moderns—a course on how to plan, develop and conduct home, school or church recreational activities.

Fire Prevention Week Contests Are Announced

Literary and art contests will be held for high school and elementary students of Cumberland in connection with the observance of Fire Prevention Week here October 9-15, George M. Hitchcock, chairman of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce Fire Prevention Committee announced yesterday.

Prizes of $50, $35 and $10 will be offered to the winners in the competitions, he added.

The first contest will consist of a brief essay based on the discovery of a fire hazard by the student and a discussion of the method used to remedy the situation.

The second contest will consist of original posters on fire prevention.

Students of all public and parochial schools of Cumberland will be eligible to enter the contest, the committee said.

The citation given to the winners will include recognition of the teachers who will aid in the work, he said.

Hitchcock said the Chamber plans to make the contest an annual affair.

New City Bus Route To Be Provided Soon

Washington Street Service Planned

Bus service on Washington Street from Baltimore to Lee Street will be provided in the near future, the Cumberland Transit Lines announced last night.

Clifton E. Fuller, former city finance commissioner, said the transportation firm agreed to the plan after he presented a petition bearing names of 500 to 600 persons requesting the service.

G. M. Davis, owner of the Cumberland Transit Lines, said the schedule of bus runs has not been determined pending final arrangements.

Davis said the route of Patterson Avenue buses would be changed to go up Washington to Lee and thence down to Greene Street.

Buses from Patterson Avenue to South Cumberland would go back via the same route instead of traveling down Greene Street to Baltimore Street.

The new route would provide bus service to the Court House, Board of Education and Cumberland Free Public Library as well as two churches.

Fuller said the agreement was reached at a half-hour meeting yesterday in the Cumberland Transit Lines office.

"We will do anything possible to improve bus service in Cumberland," Davis commented.

The transportation head also announced last night that a "trip card" system is planned to keep accurate daily records of each bus run on all routes.

Housing Report Submitted To City Officials

"Defective" Total High, Finan Says

A housing survey report has been submitted to City Attorney Thomas B. Finan, who said last night that the number of so-called "defective houses" in Cumberland far exceeds that originally anticipated.

Although exact figures were not released, Finan said the total is "in excess" of 175 properties in different sections of the city.

The city attorney said the report, which cites various properties for sanitation, crowded living conditions or fire hazards, has not been made public pending study by the Mayor and Council.

Those making the survey were J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian; Walter E. Kline, sanitary inspector for the City Health Department, and Lt. Edward Jenkins, one of the Fire Department inspectors.

Finan explained the survey is required by the Public Housing Authority prior to obtaining a slum clearing, low-cost housing project here.

He added that no action has been taken as yet on the appointment of a housing authority commission for Cumberland. However, Mayor Thomas S. Post indicated earlier this week that he hopes to name the group in the near future.

Woman Hurt In Two-Car Crash

Two motorists were fined $10 each by Justice of the Peace T. E. Pownall in Romney, W. Va., as the result of a two-car collision yesterday morning three miles east of Romney on Route 50 at the intersection of the Three Churches road.

David E. Rosser, 35, Wichita, Kans., pleaded guilty to a charge of excessive speed at an intersection, while Keith Combs, Shanks, W. Va., pleaded guilty to failing to remain on the right side of the road.

Rossers wife Lorraine, 28, was treated by a Romney physician for a fracture of the left hand, suffered when the Rosser machine ran up a dirt bank and overturned following the collision.

State Trooper O. S. Neely, who investigated, said Combs was driving a 1936 used car owned by Romney Ford Sales, Inc., on a trial run prior to purchasing it.

Combs was preparing to make a left turn into the Three Churches was accompanied by Earl D. Poland, road when the accident occurred. He also of Shanks, a salesman for the firm. Both men and Rosser were bruised but apparently escaped serious injury, Trooper Neely said.

The two machines had to be towed from the scene.

Ridgeley Man To Face Charge Under Own Name

Admits Using Name On Borrowed License

A 34-year-old Ridgeley man who was sentenced yesterday to serve 115 days in the county pail on two state charges under the name of Ora Cook will be taken back to Trial Magistrates Court today to face at least one more charge, but under his own name, Maryland State Police reported last night.

Trooper John F. Browning, who will prefer the charge, identified the man as Carl John Roy, Ridgeley, W. Va.

When he was arrested on McMullen Highway Tuesday night on a charge of reckless driving, the man identified himself to Trooper Browning as Ora Cook, Route 3, Keyser, W. Va., the name listed on the operator's card he was carrying, police said.

Roy was taken to Trial Magistrates Court yesterday morning and charged with reckless driving under the name of Ora Cook, Route 3, Keyser. Magistrate Frank A. Perdew imposed a fine of $25.75 and committed him to jail for 25 days in default of fine.

At the same time, he was charged as George O. Cook, McCoole, with neglecting and refusing to return a hired motor vehicle he had rented from a "Drive-Ur-Self" firm here.

Roy pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $200. Magistrate Perdew committed Roy to jail for 90 days in default of the fine, ruling that the 90-day sentence and the 25-day term on reckless driving charge were to run separately.

Trooper Browning said Roy used the name of Cook all through the investigation and at both hearings yesterday.

Early last night, when the deception was discovered, Roy admitted that he took Cook's operator's license on Saturday from a truck where they work, the trooper said.

Trooper Browning said Roy will be taken back to Trial Magistrates Court today to face a charge of driving without an operator's license.

He said the man will also be taken to Magistrate Perdew today to straighten out the matter of names on the traffic and criminal dockets.

State Police said Roy hired a car for 24 hours here Saturday, drove to his home in Dry Fork, W. Va returned here and worked Monday and Tuesday without returning the hired vehicle.

Railroad Sued After Fire

A $5,500 damage suit was filed against the Western Maryland Railway Company yesterday by a man who claims a spark from one of the railroad's engines started a fire which destroyed his timber.

The fire, he said, spread to his timberland, causing about $5,000 worth or damage.

Long, represented by F. Brooke Whiting, said the company "negligently and carelessly" allowed the fire to spread.
